THE TEMPLE OF JUSTICE!

August Term of Court Now in Full Blast.

JUDGE JOHN G. LOVE ON THE BENCH

The Beckwith Murder Trial Will Come Up This Week—Many Cases Being Tried.

THE COURT HOUSE CROWDED

(Specially Reported by W. Harrison Walker Esq.,)

The regular Term of August Court convened in the Court House Monday morning with Hon. John G. Love, P. J. on the bench, Prothonotary Gardner and Register Archey in their usual places. Geo. S. Burrows of Sunbury is also in attendance as the official Court Stenographer.

The morning session was largely consumed in the presentation of motions and petition by the several members of the bar.

The list of Grand Jurors was called and 23 answered to their namee, when the Court appointed Mr. Jared Harper, gentleman, of Bellefonte Borough, Foreman. The usual instructions were then given them by the Court, special attention being given to the bill of indictment that will be laid before them by District Attorney Spangler in the case of Commonwealth versus David Miller who is accused of murdering his son-in-law, Robert Roach.

The Constables of several boroughs and townships of the County then made their quarterly returns to the Court of Quarter Sessions.

A. A. Dale, Esq., was appointed an auditor to dispose of the exceptions filed to the account in the John Ramsdale estate, and to make distribution of the funds in the hands of the accountant.

Owing to the large list of criminal cases to be tried at this term, the court room was crowded to its doors at the opening of court this morning. There are said to be well onto two hundred witnesses in attendance interested either in the case of Commonwealth vs Frank Beckwith who is indicted for killing his wife for disobedience, etc., and in the case of Commonwealth versus David Miller who stands charge of murdering his son-in-law Robert Roach.

The two cases will be tried before Judge Love. District Attorney Spangler and E. R. Chambers, Esq., will represent the Commonwealth while W. E. Gray, Esq., and Orvis, Bower and Orvis will represent Frank Beckwith, and in the latter case the District Attorney is assisted by J. C. Meyer, Esq., for the Commonwealth and Col. W. I. Reeder and E. R. Chambers, Esq., represents David Miller.

A true bill was found by the Grand Jury at last session of court against Frank Beckwith, and at this session the indictment will be laid before the Grand Jury in the case against David Miller.

There are in all, forty six cases on the criminal calendar, for disposition at this term of court,

The court called over the list of civil cases for trial this week and only four out of the eight are for trial.

The case of D. W. Johnsonbaugh versus S. R. Pringle, being an appeal, on "non-assumpsit" was continued by agreement of counsel,

The case of M. Shiras versus Peter Mendis, being an appeal, was settled by the parties and costs paid. In the case of Catharine J. Thomas versus The Overseers of the Poor of Benner Township, the attorney for the plaintiff stated that the case had been settled, costs and judgment paid. The case of Lizzie Bible et. al. versus the Boro of Centre Hall being an appeal, was continued to next term of court.

Squire Collins of Sandy Ridge, P. O., brought the gun used by David Meyer who is charged with the murder of his son-in-law, Robert Roach; into Court.

Court called at two o'clock Monday afternoon with Hon. John G. Love on the bench and the other court officers in their usual places. The Grand Jury reported on several bills of indictment.

The first criminal case called for trial Tuesday afternoon was that of Commonwealth versus Bruce Yarnell, who stood charged with the crime of forgery. From the evidence it appeared that some time in November last this defendant wanted to purchase a horse and buggy from Robert Campbell, who lives above State College. The price was agreed upon. Later however this defendant wanted Mr. Campbell to accept as part pay for the horse, etc., a cow. The arrangement then was made whereby the horse and buggy was sold to Mr. Yarnell, he agreeing to deliver the cow to Mr. Campbell and to give a note in the sum of seventy-four dollars with good security for the balance. Yarnell told Campbell that he would get his grand-father Mr. F. W. Shamp who lives at Hecla Park to go on the note. When the note fell due Mr. Campbell notified Mr. Shamp to pay the same. Shamp immediately notified Campbell that he never signed or endorsed any note for Bruce Yarnell and that if he held such a note it was a forgery. A. J. Lytle then made information against Yarnell and he was arrested.

The defendant in his defense claimed that he never gave the note in question to Mr. Campbell, but that he gave him his own note, payable monthly for the balance of $74.00. The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The Grand Jury ignored the bill of indictment in the case of Commonwealth versus J. C. Nason, and directed that the costs be paid by the County. The defendant was charged with assault and battery upon the information of William Donley.

Some months ago there appeared in the columns of this paper a detailed account of a horse, buggy and harness being stolen from Miss Carrie M. Holt, of near Curtin's Works. Later there was a man by the name of George Walker, alias Elijah Record, brought here from Reynoldsville and lodged in the Centre County jail. This morning the case was called for trial. The defendant entered the plea of guilty and was at once sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of one dollar, pay the costs of prosecution, and to serve six years in the Western Penitentiary at Pittsburg.

Joseph Resides who was employed by William Carson, near Bellefonte, was arrested some days ago on the charge to cruelty to domestic animals. This case was tried this forenoon and the facts as they were sworn to are about as follows:- Young Resides was driving two horses at the mine banks belonging to William Carson; that he started to work there about the 5th of July and quit the 28th; that he used a club instead of a whip on his horses. Several of the Commonwealth's witnesses testified that they saw Resides clubbing one of the horses until he bled; that he used a heavy piece of wood, about two to three inches in diameter and about two feet long and which was used generally for breaking the cars; that about the 21st., the horse died. The defendant testified to the fact that he had used the club on the horse but had not used it as violently as had been testified to by Commonwealth's witnesses. Dr. Bilger testified that the horse did not die from any injuries received by the clubbing, but that he died from colic. The jury returned a verdict of guilty Tuesday afternoon.

Tuesday a verdict in the case of H. Y. Stitzer, for the use of F. W. Crider versus H. H. Benner, who survives Lydia Benner, and H. H. Benner and Harry Baney, heirs at law of Lydia Benner, deceased and Robert V. Miller, terre tenant was found for plaintiff in the sum of $1236.30

This was an action to obtain a judgment on a mortgage. There being no defence a verdict was simply taken by the jury.

There were two cases in which Samuel T. Dixon was plaintiff and the Overseer of the Poor of Snow Shoe Township, defendant.

From the evidence in the cases it appeared that several citizens of Snow Shoe Township died and were buried by this plantiff, he being an undertaker.

That after he had failed to collect the price due him from the estates of the decedents, he then took out an order of approval and sought to recover the amount due him from the Township. At the close of plaintiffs testimony counsel for defendant township made a motion for a compulsory non-suit on the ground that the township was in no way liable for the payment of the claims. The court granted this motion, and at the same time granted a rule to show cause why the same should not be stricken off, returnable at October argument court.

Myrtle Meyer of Milesburg who was charged with the crime of larceny entered her plea of guilty. She has not as yet been sentenced by the court.

J. H. Reifsnyder of Millheim who some months ago swore out a warrant for J. C. Hosterman, editor and proprietor of the Millheim Journal for having published a libellous article in the columns of this paper, was directed to pay the costs of prosecution, the bill of indictment having been ignored by the Grand Jury.

Commonwealth vs J. Frank Uzzle, defendant charged with assault and bat-

THE GAME OF MIMIC WAR.

White Squadron Succumbs to Coast Defenders.

ENEMY DIDN'T MAKE HARBOR

In Fighting Strength the Attacking Fleet Represented Forty-five Points While That of the Defenders Totaled Ninety-seven

THE NAVAL OFFICERS INTERESTED

ROCKFORD, Mass., August 25.—The naval problem on the New England coast, was terminated at 5:40 yesterday morning by Admiral Higginson capturing Commander Pillsbury's fleet. The battle between the Blue or defending squadron, and the White, or attacking squadron, was thus ended eight miles south of Thatchers' Island. The enemy had most signally failed to make a harbor, having for its objective point Salem.

Theoretically the White squadron was entirely destroyed by the guns of the defending battleships. Thus on the fourth night the game of naval strategy was brought to an end, it having covered a a period of unceasing toil, sleepless nights, of anxious and wearing vigil and of grave uncertainty to its participents.

The surrounding and "Putting out of action," of the squadron in command of Commander Pillsbury, was the culminating incident in one of the most interesting capters in the peace history of the American navy.

Commander Pillsbury's White squadron consisted of auxillary cruisers Prairie (flagship,) Panther and Supply. Admiral Higginson's fleet waa the Kearsarge, the Alabama and the Massachusetts, battleships, the cruisers Brooklyn and Olympia, the Leyden and Montgomery, Gloucester, Mayflower and Scorpion.

The capture came at the end of a night filled with rumors as to the location of the attacking squadron. In contrast to others, the morning was clear and bright. On the bridge of the Kearsage a dozen jackies stood upon the lookout. One of these was Daniel Staehle. The flagship was just coming down into a trough, when he notified the ensign at his side that he could see the enemy. At 5:30 o'clock the three battleships aided by the converted yacht Scorpion, which had chased in from the south in time to be in at the finish, and the Barney which had overtaken the fleet, formed a horseshoe about the White squadron. The elation among the men on board the Blue squadron ran high.

Commander Pillsbury was asked after he had surrendered regarding his movements and stated his fleet steamed directly to sea. His plan was to lay off there until Sunday night and then try for Salem harbor. Coming on the coast he had first thought of making a fein with one of his ships in the direction of Portland, hoping to draw off Admiral Higginson and the big ships of his command in that direction but as a heavy sea was running and as his ships were slow of speed and their bottoms foul, he decided not to do this and made his run direct for Salem harbor.

The only ship of Admiral Higginson's squadron he saw during the period was the torpedo boat Barney, which he sighted just about the same time he found he was seen by the sharp eyed Staehle, of the Kearsarge.

O. U. A. M. Re-union.

The Order of United American Mechanics, of Milesburg, are making preparations for a big re-union and festival at Milesburg next Saturday all day and evening. Bands will be present and a fantastic parade will take place. George S. Sides, state councilor, and Walter Graham, state secretary, will deliver addresses in the evening. A large attendance and a general good time is expected.

Took Poison in Mistake.

Mrs. Eva Moore, aged 25 years, was found dead in bed at her home on Seymour street, Newberry, Friday. She had been suffering from cramps and at first took laudaunm, to relieve the pain. Later she took in mistake permanganate of potash, which caused death. She is survived by her husband, Seymour Moore, and a 9 year old daughter.

Lost Big Money.

Reports of considerable sums of money having been taken by pickpockets from unsuspecting picnicers at Hecla on Thursday, are still coming in. It is stated that a traveling salesman, whose name was not learned, lost $250 and a Nittany Valley farmer a ten dollar bill.

The Water Committee Make Another Investment.

It will probably be news to the majority of the members of Council, and we are positive the tax payers of the Borough are not aware of the fact, that the Water Committee have men at work tearing out one of the large boilers at the Water Works, having purchased, WITHOUT ANY AUTHORITY WHATEVER, a new boiler, which has arrived and is at the railroad station.

Their action in doing so is unprecedented and unwarranted, taking, as it does, into their own hands what properly belongs to the entire Council, and should receive the condemnation of that Body at its next meeting. BUT THEY WILL NOT.

Such high-handed effrontry, and pigheadedness, has never been known within the history of our Borough, and the people will demand an explanation why such business is permitted.

The Water Committee, composed as it is of men who have no more business ability than children, has caused an endless amount of expense and annoyance to the people who are required to pay for their folly, and our only wonder is that the balance of the Council should be willing to see the people robbed without even entering a protest.

It is evident by this time to every one, that the Water Committee control the Council, and not a member of that body has the hardihood to question the propriety of their action. They have now purchased a boiler, enlarged the reservoir, torn out a good pump and wheel at the Water Works, and put in its place some worthless machinery without even consulting those whom the citizens have a right to expect to look after their interests. But, we venture to say that not one member of Council will enter his protest against their high-handed proceeding :

For fear some of our readers have forgotten who compose our Town Council we publish the names

W. F. Reynolds,
G. L. Potter,
William Derstine Esq.,
E. Whittaker,
MISTER PATRICK GARRITY,
G. Mallory,
J. Knisely,
J. M. Cunningham.
DOCTOR MILES I. KIRK.

The above are the gentlemen who spend $35,000 of the tax payers money each year.

Bloomsburg's Centennial.—Will be Celebrated August 28-29.

Bloomsburg, Columbia County, Pa., was founded in 1802, and her citizens are making great preparations for a grand celebration to close the hundredth year since the plotting of the town. The exercises will begin on Wednesday evening, 27th, with a union meeting in the M. E. Church, conducted by the clergy, and music by a choir of 100 voices. On the 28th there will be an historical meeting in the morning, a civic parade of secret societies, floats, automobiles, bands, etc., in the afternoon, and band concerts and fire works in the evening. On the 29th is Firemen's Day, with contests in the morning, and a great parade in the afternoon. There will be base ball games, balloon ascensions, a Palace of Illusions, an exhibition of wireless telegraphy, an Historical Museum, beautiful decorations, and many other attractions. Excursion rates have been arranged with all railroads leading to Bloomsburg, and it will be one of the grandest demonstrations ever witnessed in this portion of the state.

An Object Lesson in Farming.

Some of our farmers who think they have big hay crops might learn how farming is carried on upon a large scale by reading what the John DuBois farm produces in this line. Wandering across to his big meadow the other day we counted twenty-five men making hay. Upon inquiry, we learned from the forman that his crew had been working in that meadow for the last five weeks, that they were putting into the big barn 45 loads a day, which means 45 tons. When they commenced this harvest they discovered that they had 200 tons of last year's crop in the barn. The big meadow contains 475 acres, much larger than the average farm, and has yielded in one year as much as 1300 tons. This year it will not yield more than 800 tons which makes a fair hay crop, but in addition to this Mr. DuBois cuts 100 tons from some adjacent fields. None of this hay is sold, but all consumed by the large number of horses and cattle kept on his farm.—Clearfield Journal.

Will Erect Depot.

The Jersey Shore Herald says that it has been positively settled that the New York Central Railroad company will erect a big depot and office building between the Second and Third wards of that place, and that work will likely be commenced in a short time.

RIOT AT HAZLETON!

It Was the Result of Rumors That Two Collieries Were to Be Opened Yesterday.

STRIKERS WERE OUT IN FORCE

To the Number of Over 10,000 They Formed a Cordon Around the Plants—Non-Unionists Attacked.

A FOREMAN WAS BADLY BEATEN

HAZLETON, Aug. 26.—The most turbulent scene that has occurred during the anthracite miners' strike in this locality took place between the hours of 5 and 7 o'clock yesterday morning. Rumors had been current for a week that an attempt would be made Monday morning to open the Cranberry and No. 40 collieries, both of which are practically in the heart of the city.

About midnight strikers began to gather in the streets and by 5 o'clock in the morning 10,000 miners had formed a cordon about both the Cranberry and No. 40 colliery yards. This demonstration either forestalled the attempt to open or the rumors that operations would be resumed were false, for only a few non-unionists, about 40 in all, appeared at the mines.

These men were set upon by the strikers, beaten with clubs and driven back. A number of them were kidnapped by strikers and their present whereabouts are unknown. The most serious feature of the demonstration occurred when August Scheuch, a foreman, while attempting to rescue his son from the mob, was seized, beaten to the ground and stabbed three times. Scheuch was taken to the Hazleton hospital where he no lies desperately wounded. The physicians there discovered internal injuries which they think will cause the foreman's death. He is 56 years old.

The mob would have killed Scheuch had it not been for the timely interference of a party of citizens who picked up the wounded man and ran with him to a place of safety. It is believed that several of the non-union men who were kidnapped are also badly hurt. No shots were fired. The strikers used clubs and sticks as weapons. By 10 o'clock the city was quiet.

Warrants have been sworn out for the arrest of many of the strikers who participated in the riot at No. 40 shaft.

WILKESBARRE, Aug. 26.—N. W. Anthony, the president of the North American Coal company, Scranton, addressed a letter to President Mitchell, of the miners' union yesterday, requesting him to issue proclamation to his followers warning them not to interfere with the operation of the company's washery when work is started on the 27th instant. It is not likely that a proclamation will be issued. The letter has been referred to the district officers of the United Mine Workers at Scranton.

EX-CENTRE COUNTIANS HOLD A RE-UNION.

Monday's Tyrone "Herald" says :

There were about seven hundred people at the reunion of ex-Centre countians who reside in Blair county, at Glasgow's park near Bellwood on Saturday last. The weather was ideal and the pleasure of renewing acquaintances occupied much of the early part of the day. After dinner a business meeting was held and the following officers were chosen to serve during the ensuing year : President, Dr. A. R. Markel ; first vice president, A. Bucher; second vice president, S. J. Musser ; treasurer, Samuel Felty ; secretary, J. W. Smith.

Addresses were made from the platform, the first speaker being Professor I. C. M. Ellenberger. He was followed by T. J. Gates and Rev. W. C. Dunlap. There was good vocal music, a selection by F. E. Meek being a special number of the program, while Corporal Canon was on hand with his budget of comic songs. The Tyrone Symphony orchestra provided instrumental music to the delight of the picnickers. Samuel Davis, who is aged 86 years, was the oldest person present. He carried a cane which was made in Germany one hundred and fifty years ago. There were present quite a number of persons from State College, Pine Grove Mills, Boalsburg, Oak Hall, Centre Hall, Spring Mills, Millheim, Bellefonte, and Milesburg.

SHORT AND PITHY.

They say that Hon. Robert M. Foster has gone into retirement for a short time to make preparations and pull himself together to take the stump during the coming campaign, in the interest of his friends ? Hon. Henry Wetzel and would be Hon. J. W. Kepler. We have a picture of Mr. Foster "rassling" with discontented Democrats in behalf of these gentlemen.

The Bellefonte Democratic Newspapers are greatly concerned about the Republican barl. It looks as if they had no confidence in the staying qualities of their voters and tacitly acknowledge that they are a purchaseable article. Don't be worried, gentlemen, we expect and intend to elect our ticket without resorting to questionable methods.

Our Democratic friends are holding up their hands in holy horror at the idea of our giving the nomination for Congress to a man of reputed wealth. Of course they never did anything of the kind! Oh, no, never! At least, not since Hon. J. K. P. Hall, the millioniare coal baron, was their candidate against the impecunious Arnold of Clearfield. The only difference between then and now is, the shoe is on the other foot.

Capt. Taylor is busily engaged ciphering the vote he will receive in Half Moon Township and, in fact, the whole upper end. Hugh, your doom is sealed in that section.

Hon. P. Gray Meek is now spending his time at Democratic Headquarters, down in Harrisburg, advising Chairman Creasy how to conduct the campaign, in order to insure the election of Patterson. We are not very much "skeered" of Hon. Meek, for he has been assisting to manipulate State politics for a great many years and has invariably been successful in electing the Republican ticket. We hope he will enjoy himself, for that is all he will get out of it.

John C. Rowe (who is he anyhow ?) wants to move to Bellefonte and occupy the comfortable position of Recorder. Jonnie, you were not cut out for that job. We have the man selected to take the place, who is better qualified in ever way to fill it. Suppose you wait a few years, 'till we become better acquainted.

William J. Carlin, that great big hearted and generous soul, is under the impression that he can be elected Treasurer of Centre County. Poor fellow, he had better get this idea out of his head, for he will come just as near an election as the fellow whom he cheated out of the nomination. Mr. Carlin may be a nice man, but is too narrow to run on a wide guage track.

Here's to Alec Archey, hoping he will enjoy life after he returns to his broad well tilled acres at Pine Grove. He has plenty of this world's goods and can live without the worry and vexation of the Register's duties. The people, therefore, have decided to retire him. So Alec, when you hear the band tuten, get ready to march, for it will mean you.

Henry Avoirdupois Wetzel is not taking the same chances he did two years ago, but has given up the nice fat job under the State, which he has been farming for years and is looking pleasant at the Republicans. Henry, we hope you have not given up the position permanently, for you will want it again after the election. Arrangements have been made for sending two Republicans to Harrisburg this winter.

The music is all knocked out of Commissioner P. H. Meyer, for he has just begun to descern the signs of the times, and they are so distinct that a blind man can almost see them. The signs read, TWO REPUBLICAN COUNTY COMMISSIONERS WILL BE ELECTED THIS FALL. The fight is on between Philip and Humpton and the one with the longest and sharpest knife will be the winner. Philip has the advantage of a large freund schaft. That may be able to save his bacon. But what about Humpton.

It was reported that J. Will Kepler will put Two thousand of his papa's dollars into the campaign rather than be defeated again. Will is easy and it is amusing to see how his thirsty friends work him when he happens to come to Bellefonte. If he would listen to us, we would advise him to attend to getting his fall crop in the ground and give up the idea of going to Harrisburg. He can't be elected and, as a friend, we tell him so.

Additional Locals.

—Edward B. Robb, of Romola, has been appointed postmaster at that place.

—Dr. Frederick Moyer who was well known to many of our citizens died at the residence of H. E Harter at Axe Mann. His death was sudden and unexpected. His age was about 70 years.

—Mrs. Charles Case, formerly of Bellefonte, is very ill at her home near Williamsport. Her many friends in this place will regret to hear of her illness and will hope for her speedy recovery.

—Miss Myrtle A. Graves and Kathryn Irvin, who are canvassing our town in the interest of the W. C. T. U. Star Course report most favorably of the number of subscribers they have already received and this Course promises to be better patronized than any in the past.

—On Tuesday morning while working at the Jenkins Iron and Tool Works at Howard, Jesse Lucas met with an accident. While handling 300 pound fagots one of them dropped on his foot cutting it pretty bad, which will prevent him from working for the next few weeks.

—Miss Ella Ryan of Limerick, Ireland who is visiting in Bellefonte, entertained a company of friends at Burnsides solitude on Wednesday. The following were her guests. Mrs. Burnet, Mrs. Mollie Valentine and Mrs John N. Lane and Messrs B. C. Quigley and Edmund Blanchard

—A traction engine coming in Water street Saturday frightened a horse belonging to McCalmont & Co., which was standing near the store hitched to one of their delivery wagons. The horse ran away upsetting the wagon but was stopped before any serious damage was done.

—On Wednesday morning while working at the heating furnace at the tool works below Howard, the fire came out at the door and burned George Bechdel about the breast, face and head. He was taken to the office of Dr. Kurtz, and is now resting as comfortably as could be expected

—Dr. Richard H. Thomas and his wife, Anna B. Thomas, prominent members of the Society of Friends, were present at meetings held in the Friends' Meeting House, Sunday August 24th at 11:00 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. At the evening meeting Dr. Thomas gave a lecture on "The Society of Friends, Its History and Principles."

—The following party of ladies went to Hecla Park Friday to hold a little picnic in honor of Miss Ryan of Limerick, Ireland: Mrs. Mollie Valentine, Miss Mary Meek, Miss Lulu Meek, Mrs. Burnet, Mrs. Archibald Allison and Mrs. Thomas Morris. Miss Ryan is a visitor at the Bush House and is an old friend of Mrs. Valentine.

—Mrs. John Noll met with quite a serious accident Saturday at her home on Pine street. She started to go down to the cellar but tripped on the top step and fell the full length of the stairs to the ground below. Although no bones are broken yet she was badly bruised and shaken up and is reported to be in a serious condition.

—It is estimated that 1,000 bushels of berries of all kinds have been picked in Sugar Valley this year including huckleberries. About 3,000 quarts are marketed in Lock Haven and Williamsport each market day. Many families make from $50 to $125 each season The average quantity gathered by a picker in a day is twenty-five quarts.

—We are informed by Hon. Leonard Rhone that arrangements have been made with the Democratic and Republican Committees which positively insure the presence of Judge Pennypacker and Senator Penrose at the Grange Picnic on Wednesday Sept. 17th and Ex-Gov Pattison and Chairman Creasy on Thursday the 18th. These gentlemen will certainly draw great crowds, as Democrats and Republicans will vie with each other in giving there favorite candidate a Royal reception.

Excursion to Williamsport.

On account of meeting of annual State Camp P. O. S. of A. at Williamsport, Pa., the Central R. R. of Penn'a will sell excursion tickets from all stations to Williamsport and return at one-way fare for round trip on Thursday, August 28th, 1902, good for return on date of issue.

A special train going will leave Mill Hall at 8:20 a. m. and returning will leave Williamsport at 7:30 p. m.

STRIKERS EXCITED.

Fifteen Cars Of Coal Shipped From Silver Creek Colliery Near New Philadelphia.

WHO KILLED PATRICK SHARPE

Inquest Being Held to Ascertain This Fact—Witnesses Disagree as to Name of Person.

TROOPS STAY IN PANTHER VALLEY.

SHENANDOAH, AUGUST 23.—Fifteen cars of coal were shipped from Silver Creek colliery, near New Philadelphia, last evening and it was the first coal that has been prepared for market in that district since the strike began. The strikers were very much excited and several hundred congregated along the railroad track, watching the train go by. The crowd got in an angry mood at the sight of the loaded cars, but there was no serious demonstration and affairs soon quieted.

TAMAQUA, August. 23.—Conflicting testimony was given at the inquest held to place the responsibility for the death of Patrick Sharpe, who was killed during a clash between strikers and deputies at Nesquehoning on Monday evening. Twelve witnesses swore that Sharpe had been killed by Harry McElmoyle, while five others held that the fatal shot had been fired by William Ronemus.

Yesterday morning Ezekiel John, the lieutenant of the deputies, was arrested charged with complicity in the murder of Sharpe. He is now in the Mauch Chunk jail.

TAMAQUA, August 23.—Acting upon the advice of General Gobin, the officers and men of the First battalion of the Twelfth regiment, stationed near here, sent to Shenandoah for their full equipments, and their personal effects. This would indicate that General Gobin has decided to keep a detachment of troops in the Panther Creek valley some time.

Yesterday the mine workers sent a petition to Governor Stone asking that the troops be recalled.

It is rumored here that the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company is preparing to mine coal under the protection of the troops. The Officials refuse to affirm or deny the report.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., August 23—The United Mine Workers' Journal contains the following estimate of the strike situation:

Anthracite miners solid and unyielding. Prepared for a long siege. West Virginia practically unchanged. Strikers quiet, firm and confident.

J. H. Kennedy, secretary of the Indiana bituminous miner, says that work is slow in the bituminous district. Little is being done about the mines at Evansville, Boonville, Montgomery and other points, but he says the time of year is approaching when work ought to be fair.

HAZLETON, August 23.—Anton Ambrose, of New York, president of the National Slavonic society, addressed the foreign-speaking strikers at Coleraine, and at the conclusion of his talk gave each Slavoman of the town $5 for relief purposes. Mr. Ambrose, who is touring the anthracite region for the purpose of affording relief to his countrymen, said he had at his disposal $58,000 for distribution among them.

His Sight Threatened.

"While picnicing last month my 11 year-old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Ia. He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for awhile we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finnaly a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is sure cure. Relieves piles at once. Beware of counterfeits. C. M. Parrish.

—Laird Curtin is entertaining a few friends at his home at Roland, those who constitute the house party are Misses Margaret Thomas, Thomazine Potter and Sarah Potter and Messrs James Furst and Fred Larimer. These ladies and gentlemen went down on Thursday morning and will remain till Saturday evening In order to pass the time pleasantly, there will be horse back riding, driving and boating and on Friday a large number of young people from Bellefonte attended a mid-summer dance given by Laird in honor of his guests.

May not be all that is meant by dyspepsia now, but it will be if neglected.

The uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, sourness of the stomach, and disagreeable belching may not be very bad now, but they will be if the stomach is suffered to grow weaker.

Dyspepsia is such a miserable disease that the tendency to it should be given early attention. This is completely overcome by

A TRYING ORDEAL.

The Fattening Process of a Marriageable Girl In Tunis.

The marriageable girl in Tunis has a trying ordeal to go through after her betrothal to the man not of her choice, but whose choice she is. She has to be fattened to the required size before the ceremony can take place.

As soon as the betrothal takes place she is taken to a room and there cooped up till the fattening process is concluded. Silver shackles are fastened round her wrists and ankles, and the task of her parents and future husband is to increase her bulk till her wrists and ankles fill up the shackles. If the husband is a widower or has "discharged" his first wife, the girl has the shackles of the first spouse placed on her, and she must fill them out.

It takes a long time to do this as a rule, and sometimes it cannot be accomplished in spite of all efforts. It is then open to the future husband to cry off the bargain or waive the condition. In the case of a bachelor he takes care to see that the bracelets and anklets are not too large—that is, if he is fond of the girl—but if he is being forced into the marriage by his parents, he is a great stickler for custom. Stout girls are the more quickly snapped up in Tunis.—Pictorial Magazine.

Alexandrian Scientists.

Among the great scientists of the Alexandrian school, or, rather, mathematicians, were Pappus, one of the greatest of ancient mathematicians; Theon, and his unfortunate daughter, the famous Hypatia—who appears to have been a better mathematician than her father—the story of whose life and tragic death is familiar through Kingsley's novel. Unfortunately none of her works is extant. She was the last of the Alexandrian philosophers who attained any fame. She lived about 415 A. D.

Not only is this old university renowned for the impulse which it gave to science, but it also extended its protection and aid to literature, poetry and the fine arts. For example, Ptolemy Philadelphus did not consider it beneath him to count among his personal friends the poet Callimachus, the author of a treatise on birds, who honorably maintained himself by keeping a school at Alexandria. Among the most distinguished poets may be mentioned Lycophron, whose work "Cassandra" still remains, and Theocritus, whose exquisite bucolics prove how sweet a poet he was.

Hal's Thanks.

"My niece Mary was always a well meaning girl, but she would say the wrong thing almost every time," said one old gentleman to another, "and she's got a boy that's going to be her very counterpart."

The old gentleman's eyes twinkled, and his plain, good natured face was puckered with enjoyment as he drew from his pocketbook a small sheet of note paper.

"I sent Hal a toy monkey that plays all kinds of pranks when it's wound up," said he, chuckling; "sent it to him for his birthday. Now, you listen to this letter of thanks I got from him today. He's just eight years old:

"Deer Uncle Ned—I am delighted with the munkey, thank you. He makes me think of you very often. And whenever mamma winds him up and he begins to jump mamma and I feel as if we were back at your house where all those toys are, and mamma will look at the toy and say, 'That's your Uncle Ned all over.' Goodby from your gratefull HAL."

—Pittsburg Bulletin.

A Difference.

Recently a girl in a public school was asked by her teacher to explain the difference between the words balance and remainder. Her answer was, "You can say 'a man lost his balance and fell,' but you cannot say 'a man lost his remainder and fell.'"

Vacation Days.

Vacation time is here and the children are fairly living out of doors, There could be no healthier place for them. You need only to guard against the accidents incidental to most open air sports. No remedy equals De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve for quickly stopping pain or removing danger of serious consequences. For cuts, scalds and wounds. "I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for sores cuts and bruises," says L. B. Johnson, Swift, Tex, "It is the best remedy on the market." Sure cure for piles and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. C. M. Parrish.

V. R. Harkness Dead.

Mr. V. R. Harkness, aged 60 years, a brother of Mrs. W. A. Buckhout, died at the Buckhout home in this place Wednesday morning. He came here from Philadelphia several months ago broken down in health. His body was taken to Philadelphia Thursday afternoon for burial.—State College Times.

Miller—Noll.

George P. Miller and Jennie R. Noll, of Pleasant Gap, were united in matrimony by Rev. Salter, of Pleasant Gap, at the home of the bride, Tuesday, August 19, at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Mike Hazel Entertains the Potter—Hoy Hardware firm and Employees.

Mike Hazel, one of the trusted and efficient employees of the Potter—Hoy Hardware Company, invited the members of that firm, and all hands connected with the store, to his hospitable home near the "Willows," along the shores of the placid Spring Creek, on Wednesday night for an evening of music and feasting. Mr. Hazel, being familiar with the capacity of his guests, had been laying in stores for some time previous, and had informed his good wife about how much provision to prepare for the crew which he had invited to partake of his bounty. Every man expected was on hand in good season, and by way of entertainment, Mr. Hazel had invited several ladies of acknowledge musical ability, to help amuse and entertain the gentlemen until supper was prepared. Those who contributed to this part of the programe were Misses Mary and Anna Snyder of Altoona, Mary Brown, Agnes and Theresa Shields of Bellefonte and Miss Krause of Pittsburg. Fred Wilhelm of Pittsburg, a warbler of renown, and at one time a resident of Bellefonte, delighted everyone with some choice selections. The host, himself, could not refuse the many requests and he also, in his deep, rich baritone made the welken ring with songs; classic and otherwise. At about eleven o'clock the host ushered his friends into the dining room, where such a feast was prepared as only hungry hardware men could do justice to. Everything that heart could wish, or appetite crave, was placed upon the table in profusion and for one hour and a half those "chappies" worked harder than they had done for a month, to do justice to the culinary production of Mrs. Hazel. It was intended to be a social feast, but instead it resembled an eating contest, each one trying to win in the race, and after it was over it would have been a difficult matter to determine who came under the pole first, although it was pretty generally conceded that Henry Thomas carried off the palm, with Rand Hoy as a good second. At the conclusion of the banquet, several of the gentlemen were called upon for speeches, but for some reason were unable to respond, with the exception of Edward L. Hoy, who, in a few remarks, feelingly expressed their pleasure at being there, and thanked the host and hostess for their kindness in affording them such a delightful time. Edward was either rattled or disappointed, for at the close of his remarks, he stated that his "expectations were greater than the realization of the affair." We rather think he got the cart before the horse, for, from what we learn, they realized far more than they expected or deserved. The writer regrets that he was unable to be present, although he would have made an effort to go had Mike sufficiently urged him to do so.

Those present were: James H. Potter, E. L. Hoy, James E. Williams, Hayes Sloan, Frank Crawford, Rand Hoy, Orie Kline, John Whippo, Edward Owen, John Woomer, Don Potter, William Stewart and Henry Thomas.

We neglected to mention that Wm. Stewart and Henry Thomas undertook to sing a duet but were excused after the first verse the party wanted music not noise.

The Fall Opening of the Academy.

The Bellefonte Academy will open its Fall session on Wednesday, September 10, with the largest and strongest corps of teachers in its history.

The faculty will be composed as follows:

Rev. J. P. Hughes, A. M., Emeritus Principal, Princeton University, Mathematics and Book-keeping.

J. R. Hughes, A. M., Principal, Princeton University, Latin, Greek and Elocution.

Miss Helen E. Overton, Preceptress, Superintendent of Primary Department, aided by two competent assistants.

Miss Isabella S. Hill, Ph. B., Wesleyan University, English, Rhetoric and Literature.

Miss Kate Stewart Davis, University of Freiburg, Sorbonne and College de France, French and German.

E. H. Myers, B. S., Penna. State College, Higher Mathematics and Science.

Howard E. Sands, A. B., Union College, Mathematics, English and History.

Low rate tickets for students provided by all railroad companies. School schedule arranged to suit the railroad schedules.

Correspondence schools excellent for those unable to attend school, but daily contact with teachers and scholars is the only real and thorough system of education. Terms low.

LUTHERAN REUNION AT ISLAND PARK.

Reduced Rates via Pennsylvania Railroad.

For the Lutheran Reunion at Island Park (between Sunbury and Northumberland), August 28, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell special excursion tickets from North Bend and intermediate stations west of Williamsport; Bellefonte and intermediate stations on the Lewisburg and Tyrone Branch west of Lewisburg; from Lewistown Junction and intermediate stations; and from Harrisburg, Lykens and intermediate stations to Sunbury and return at reduced rates.

Tickets will be sold and good going on August 28, good returning until August 29, inclusive.

Would You Think It?

Would you think it possible that you could be disappointed in the face of a woman whose shapely shoulders, and beautiful hair suggest womanly perfection and beauty? Such disappointment comes not seldom when the face turned to you shows disfiguring blotches and blemishes. In general the cause of these eruptions is impure blood.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood, and removes the corrupt accumulations which cause disease. When the blood is cleansed, pimples, tetter, salt-rheum, boils, sores, and other results of impure blood, are perfectly and permanently cured.

"For three years I suffered with that dreaded disease eczema," writes Mrs. J. Koepp, of Herman, Oregon. "I was told to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which I did, and after I had taken fourteen bottles I was permanently cured. It has been a year since I stopped taking your medicine and it has never appeared since. I think your medicine a wonderful cure and hope others suffering as I did, will take it and be relieved of their suffering."

Some of the most remarkable cures effected by "Golden Medical Discovery," have been of scrofulous diseases.

"I will forever thank you for advising me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. Jas. Murphy, of Fonda, Pocahontas Co., Iowa. "It has cured me of chronic scrofula of twelve years' standing. I had doctored for the trouble until I was completely discouraged. I also had chronic diarrhea for twelve years. I am in good health now—better than I ever was in my life, owing to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took several bottles of the 'Discovery' before I stopped."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure dizziness and sick headache.

CALLING UPON A FRIEND.

The Way In Which Two English Actors Once Paid a Visit.

Here is an amusing story of Messrs. Toole and Brough, the English comedians. Having appeared conjointly in a drama, "Dearer Than Life," in which they wore very ragged, woebegone costumes, they visited the well known artists Fradelle and Marshall to be photographed in their rags. While waiting "between the plates" Toole, who was fond of a lark, suggested to his brother comedian to sally out and call upon a certain mutual acquaintance, who would be horribly shocked at receiving visitors in such a garb. Brough at once assented, and, popping on their battered hats, out into the street the pair slipped and made for the house of their friend. Of course the neat housemaid and the neater Buttons were horrified and declined even without being asked to purchase matches or the like.

"I axes your pardon," said Toole in an assumed tone. "You're making a slight mistake. We want to see your master." And he mentioned the gentleman's Christian name and that of his wife.

"We have important business with him," chimed in Brough.

The girl's face wore a dazed aspect, and she said: "Master never sees the likes of you at his house. He's most pertickler, ain't he, Charles?" appealing to the page. "You must be making a mistake."

"Oh, no, we ain't!" responded Toole with supreme gravity. "But I'm sorry William"—the Christian name of the gentleman—"is out. I haven't got a card about me," pretending to fumble among his rags, "but tell your master that his two cousins from the workhouse called as they were passing through London."—London Tit-Bits.

HARDY SUWAROFF.

Peculiarities of One of Russia's Great Military Commanders.

Suwaroff, Russia's great military commander, was a little man, insignificant in everything but that intangible power of mind and character with which physical strength is never to be compared. He had been sickly in his youth, but became hardy under the stimulus of cold bathing and the benefits of a plain diet. Buckets of cold water were thrown over him in the morning, and his table was served with fare which guests would fain have refused, but dared not lest he should think them effeminate. He despised dress and delighted in drilling his men in shirt sleeves, sometimes with his stockings literally "down at the heel."

But his hardihood of life and action had its effect on the men he commanded. He was often up and about by midnight and would salute the first soldier whom he saw moving with a piercing cockcrow in commendation of his early rising. During the first Polish war he had given orders for an attack at cockcrow, and a spy in the camp carried the news to the enemy. The attack, however, really took place at 9 o'clock in the evening, when the arrangement had been made, for Suwaroff, suspecting treachery, had then turned out his troops by his well known crowing. The enemy, expecting the event in the morning, were entirely unprepared and fell easy victims to his forethought.

"Tomorrow morning," said he to his troops on the evening before the storming of Ismail, "an hour before daybreak I mean to get up. I shall wash and dress myself, say my prayers, give one good cockcrow and then capture Ismail."

Curious Translation Errors.

Some amusing errors are made by translators. An Italian paper turned Kipling's "Absentminded Beggar" into a "Distracted Mendicant." Another Italian editor who translated a passage from an English paper about a man who had killed his wife with a poker added an ingenious footnote to say, "We do not know with certainty whether this thing 'pokero' be a domestic or surgical instrument." The desperate expedient of the French translator of Cooper's "Spy," who had to explain how a horse could be hitched "to a locust," is worth recalling. He had never heard of locust trees and rendered the word by "sauterelle," or grasshopper. Feeling that this needed some explanation, he appended a footnote explaining that grasshoppers grew to a gigantic size in the United States and that it was the custom to place a stuffed specimen at the door of every mansion for the convenience of visitors, who hitched their horses to it.

The Bluejay.

One may pet or patronize, according to one's nature, a chipping sparrow, bluebird or phoebe, but he is indeed well coated with self esteem who does not feel a sense of inferiority in the presence of a jay. He is such a shrewd, independent and aggressive creature that one is inevitably led to the belief that he is more of a success as a bird than most men are as men. Conspicuous by voice and action during the fall and winter, when other birds are quietest, he becomes silent when other birds are most vocal. If he has a love song, it is reserved for the ear of his mate. At this season he even controls his fondness for owl baiting and with it his vituperative gifts. The robin, the catbird and the thrasher seem eager to betray the location of their nests to every passerby, but the bluejay gives no evidence of the site of his habitation by being seen in its vicinity.—Frank M. Chapman in Century.

Knew Her Treasures.

Mr. Winks—Why didn't you give the children any lunch today?

Mrs. Winks—We have all been invited to Mrs. De Quiet's to tea.

Mr. Winks—Good gracious! What difference does that make?

Mrs. Winks—I want them to be hungry enough to eat what's set before them without asking impertinent questions.

Breaking It Gently.

Rich Uncle—You might as well stop mooning about Miss Beauty. She hasn't been in love with you after all. She's been after the money she thought she would inherit from me.

Nephew—Impossible! Why do you think so?

Rich Uncle—Because I have proposed to her myself and been accepted.

Notifying the God.

One of the odd things the visitor to Burma will notice is the large number of bells about the pagodas. These bells are usually hung on sacred posts a few feet above the ground.

They are sweet toned, as all Burmese bells are, but they are not furnished with tongues. The worshiper who comes to pray before the pagoda strikes one of these bells with a wooden mallet. This is to attract the attention of the god.

The Hour.

Tubbs—What hour is it?

Dubbs—None at all.

Tubbs—What do you mean?

Dubbs—Not yet 1 o'clock.—New York Herald.

Some Russian railways employ only members of the Orthodox church.

Its Bright Side.

"Do you never consider," asked the Rev. X. Horter, "that even prison has its bright side?"

"Sure," replied the convict, "and I can't help thinkin' and longin' fur it."

"For what?"

"The outside."

ONE OF NATURE'S LAWS.

Action and Reaction That Produce a Fit of the Blues.

Probably in two cases out of three the blues are caused by one's physical state. If a man has overworked or has been under any unusual strain or excitement or has worried a great deal or has been for a while in a state of joy and elation—all of which require an expenditure of energy—he is very likely to have the blues and to be in low spirits by way of reaction.

The body is a machine which can do a certain amount of work and no more. If it does a great deal today, it must do less tomorrow and thereby make up for today's extravagance. If a man takes one glass of whisky, the slight stimulus that he feels will be followed, as night follows day, by an exactly equivalent sinking of the spirits. If he has been thoroughly and gayly drunk, his recovery will be attended by corresponding melancholia and misery.

When a man has the blues, he ought to consider that he is merely an exponent of one of nature's laws and that he has no right to harass others with complaints. Some men are not pleased unless they communicate their unpleasant moods to all about them. They become sulky and cross with their wives and children, and they throw a gloom over their household. Such conduct is very selfish.

A man in the blues ought to take some pills and a good long walk all alone or with some companion of steadfast cheerfulness. Lucky it is for him if he has a wife who will not be downcast and who can restore him to cheerfulness without spoiling him.—San Francisco Bulletin.

Funny Signs of the Times.

Some persons find as much fun in reading signboards as others do in reading the comic papers. Here are a few oddities reported by observing travelers, the first of which evidently was displayed in front of a butcher's shop:

"I kill myself every Tuesday and Friday."

"Take notis when this board is out of site the river is dangerous."

"Widow with large family wants washing by the week."

"Ladies and gents sold and bealed."

"This is the old shop just come from above."

"A large stock of ladies' hose, pure cashmere, to be cleared 25 cents the pair. They won't last long at this price."

"Abominable belts made to order."

"Closed for the day owing to funeral of proprietor's wife and who will carry on as usual tomorrow morning."—New York Press.

Saved In Installments.

A couple of Scottish ferrymen rowing a somewhat dandified Englishman out to a steamer at one of the Clyde watering places saw to their consternation the man tumble over the gunwale of the boat into the water.

The foremost ferryman dropped his oar and made a grab at the man as he rose to the surface, catching him by the wig, which came away in his hand.

Throwing this into the boat impatiently, he made a second grab, catching the collar of his shirt, when the collar and front came away in his hands.

Casting these away from him in great disgust, he cried, "Man, Donald, come here quick and help's to save as muckle o' this man as ye can, for he's comin' awa' in bits!"

Chinese Women Menders.

In nearly every city in China women are to be found sitting in the streets busily plying their trade as menders of clothing. Their knowledge of needlecraft is generally limited to what is called "running," and therefore they are not much patronized by English or American travelers. They are, however, never without patrons among Chinese tradesmen, who are often natives of other districts and have no one else in the city to mend a rent for them, their wives and children being left at home. For this class of customers the skill of the itinerant sewing woman is sufficient, and to them it is a great convenience to have the necessary repairs rapidly made while they stand by and wait.

Density and Rarity of Air.

If a well could be dug to the depth of forty-six miles, the density of the air at the bottom would be as great as that of quicksilver. By the same law a cubic inch of air taken 4,000 miles above the earth's surface would expand sufficiently to fill a sphere 2,000,000,000 miles in diameter.

He Enjoys It.

Borem—You can't find a man anywhere who enjoys a joke better than I do.

Biffkins—Guess that's right. I've heard you tell the same old joke twenty times, and you laughed every time you told it.—Chicago News.

The keep of one dog costs as much as the keep of sixty hens, and sixty hens will lay 600 dozen eggs.

The Small Boy's Plan.

"Willie," she said, "if you eat any more of those preserves I'll give you a whipping."

"You wouldn't whip a sick boy, would you?" he asked pathetically.

"Of course not."

"Then I'll eat enough to make me sick."—Chicago Post.

Just look at her.

Whence came that sprightly step, faultless skin, rich rosy complexion, smiling face. She looks good, feels good. Here's her secret. She uses Dr. King's New Life Pills. Result, all organs active, digestion good, no headaches, no chance for "blues." Try them yourself. Only 25c. at Green's Pharmacy.

IN THE LOWER BALD EAGLE.

Over a Score of Subscribers Added Between Bellefonte and Eagleville.

The weather last week was all that could be desired. My first profitable interview, after starting out on Monday, the 18th, was with the estimable wife of Wesley Crain, whose home is one of that collection of houses called Tangletown, near Milesburg. I stopped in the village only to request Rev. E. C. Houck, the Baptist minister, to speak at the Gospel temperance meeting in Petrikin Hall Sunday afternoon, the 24th, which he readily consented to do. He has resigned his Baptist appointments (five in all) in Bald Eagle valley and will depart about the first of October, as he finds it necessary to seek work less arduous Rev. Houck has been faithful and useful and his departure will be a loss. He has not yet decided where he will go.

Out the Moose Run road no incident worthy of record occurred. Then I turned at the Advent church and paused a few minutes to speak to Sam Miller and wife who not long ago moved onto the farm formerly occupied by John C. Sliker. Sam had formerly lived in town and worked at the stone quarries and he considers that farming, even in the ridges, is infinitely better. His crops are excellent, his health good, he can work as long or as little as he desires and don't have any one to order him about. Well, after dinner, which was partaken of at J. N. Shope's home, I went on toward Fairview church. In the morning I had placed John Jodon of Milesburg on the subscription list and here I added John T. Baylets of Milesburg and W. Henry Nyman of Roland. I repaired to the home of J. Watson Lucas, Sr., for the night.

Next morning, on the way to Mt. Eagle, Mrs. Jas. Emenhizer was added to the list and a few minutes later Wm. Kline became a subscriber. Leaving Mt. Eagle, Howard was my next objective point. Two names were added there, the second being the well known marble worker, J. W. Mayes. He showed me the new method of working in marble which he recently put in his factory at considerable expense. It is by compressed air, a 5½ horse power engine being used. With this new method he can do work faster and far more accurate, particularly in the use of raised letters on the marble. He asserts on the authority of traveling men that the volume of business in this line done by him since last April exceeds that of any other country marble yard within their knowledge and there are now at least half as many more orders on file. Other pleasant gentlemen greeted at Howard were A. A. Schenck, W. H. Thompson, J. Norris Bogle at his home and C. B. Schenck. The last mentioned gentleman lives on a farm about a mile and a half east of Howard and there I tarried all night. Among the inmates of his home is his father 83 years old and quite feeble because of a serious fall some time ago.

On Wednesday in Eagleville and vicinity a large number of subscribers were added to the list, among them being D. M. Burlew, William Cox, Rev. G. S. West, Mrs. Wm. James, James Henley, Curtis DeHaas, H. C. Kessinger, A. D. Strawcutter, Thos. Bowes, N. J. Spangler and Mrs. Michael Fravel. At Mr. Kessinger's, mentioned above, I ate dinner. Rev. West, also mentioned above, who built the Y. M. C. A. building at Eagleville, continues to do marvels. He has torn down the belfry of the Baptist church and is remodeling the structure. He has purchased 385 beautifully upholstered chairs to put in. Of course he does the preaching and he also takes an active part in all the other work. In the afternoon I started up Marsh Creek and just here such an interesting and opportune incident took place. Since the spring freshets no bridge had been built and only a plank spanned the stream. Being one of those unfortunate individuals who always get light-headed when attempting to walk such places I was just about to adopt the desperate expedient of wading across barefoot when lo, one of the most lovely and amiable young ladies in all that country came driving along alone in a luxurious conveyance. Well, I was soon transported to the Marsh Creek side. At Thomas Bowes' home, where I was at night, Herman Robb of Bellefonte with his excellent wife and bevy of attractive daughters were at supper, but Mr. and Mrs. Bowes, who are not only large physically but also unlimited in hospitality seemed to enjoy the size of the company whom they entertained. But who would ever have dreamed that the sedate and dignified Herman Robb would ever behave so wild and reckless as he did when out in the country? Why, the horses and cows were terrified by his resounding whoops and fled away to the mountains.

Thursday I resumed my travels up Marsh Creek, stopping to see various friends, among them J. H. Bechdel and also the widow of the late lamented Wm. Robb, but the only subscriber I secured was Miss Lydia Kerchhoff, whose name was given me by her father, Frederick Kerchhoff, whom I met in company with Mr. DeLong. Dinner was discussed around the table of Hon. John A. Daley, at whose home Mrs. Lord and daughter of Washington, D. C., are guests. Then at 2 p. m. I started by a short route across into the Yarnell settlement. Sincere sorrow seemed to prevail in that community at the death of the wife of Kyle Walker the previous Thursday, the burial being on Saturday; also the death of a little son of Doc. McCloskey, of diphtheria, whose funeral was on Sunday. J. Watson Lucas, Jr., took me in for the night.

Thursday afternoon I noticed five men at Wm. F. Cox's new home beginning to put in place the heavy timbers of the new barn, the foundation of which was built by Mr. Sweitzer of Bellefonte. One of the five, D. P. Wensel, became a subscriber. When I passed Henry Heaton's fine residence the owner, who was sitting on the porch, told me that he was suffering acutely with rheumatism. Robert Walker concluded to make himself happy by reading the REPUBLICAN. My friend, Mrs. Johathan Packer, informed me that quite a party of people, including three daughters, were guests of their father Jacob Shank, of Roland, viz., Mrs. Keplin and son and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stone and child of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kinney of Johnstown. Mrs. Stone had been quite ill since coming to Roland, but is better. I met Mr. Stone at the Packer residence and he showed me the fine trout pond on the premises. Having a little time I journeyed over into Fetzertown and there picked up Miss Olie Kline and Michael W. Fetzer as subscribers. Last but certainly not least was Miss V. Teller of Milesburg.

RAINS RETARD CROPS.

Sunshine and Warm Weather Will DO Much to Improve General Conditions.

The crop bulletin of the weather bureau for the past week, states that the showers were general in nearly all districts on the 10th and 11th.

The closing days were favorable to farm work, but rather cool for the rapid advancement and maturity of growing crops. Haying is nearing completion, but a good percentage of the crop was damaged by frequent showers. The harvest of oats is well advanced or practically finished in a large number of counties, but in many localities there is much complaint of work being retarded by wet soil.

Early corn has filled nicely and a good crop seems assured, but the cool weather and heavy rainfall has been detrimental to late plantings and a large acreage will be cut for fodder. Early potatoes were satisfactory in most sections and the late crop is in favorable conditions on upland soil, but on lowlands the plants are backward and are generally suffering from either rot or blight and the yield will probably be less than usual.

The second crop of clover is much heavier than the first. Buckwheat has made steady growth, and a large acreage is in bloom. Tobacco plants are somewhat late, but thrifty, and reasonable weather will insure an average crop of excellent quality. Plowing for fall seeding is in progress wherever the condition of the soil will allow, and is practically completed in several counties. Pastures are furnishing ample feed. Apples, pears, and peaches range from good in some districts to fair or poor in others. Sunshine and higher temperatures would be beneficial.

Photographer C. C. Harlan, of Eaton, O., can do so now, though for years he couldn't because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him till he tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a godsend to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unrivaled for diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by Green's Pharmacy.

Kodol Digests what you Eat

Dyspepsia Cure

People once thought that the only way to cure indigestion was to stop eating. The trouble with such treatment is, that to stop eating is to stop living. KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE has changed the whole method of treating this complaint. It contains all the natural digestive fluids and digests all you eat without aid from the stomach, so you can eat all the good food you want and be cured of your trouble at the same time.

"I have been troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia for several years and often sat down to eat but had to give it up after eating only two bites. I used two bottles of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and am alright to-day. Can now eat anything I want. W. L. Easton, Audubon, Iowa."

It can't help but do you good

Prepared by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1. bottle contains 2½ times the 50c. size.

When you suffer from biliousness or constipation, use the famous little liver pills known as DeWitt's Little EARLY RISERS. They never gripe.

EDITORIAL.

THE BELLE FONTE "REPUBLICAN" FOR 25 CENTS.

In order to place the REPUBLICAN, during the coming campaign, in as many homes as possible, we have decided to make the following liberal offer, On receipt of 25 cents, we will mail the REPUBLICAN (weekly) to new subscribers, until after the election in November. As the campaign promises to be decidedly exciting and interesting, persons wishing to keep themselves informed on the political situation, should avail themselves of this generous offer. The REPUBLICAN intends taking a leading and decided stand during the campaign, and we promise interesting reading to its subcribers.

IMPORTANCE OF A REPUBLICAN CONGRESS.

In order to sustain the National Administration in the efforts to maintain the policy of government as advocated and carried out by the lamented McKinley and insure a continuence of the prosperous times we now enjoy, it will be necessary to elect a Congress in accord with the views of President Roosevelt.

We have in our Candidate S. R. Dresser all the qualities which go to make up a representative in whom we can depend at all times to vote for the best interest of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Dresser is a man who has the confidence and respect of every Republican in his home county, he is a practical business man extensively engaged in manufacturing, is in the prime of life and it should be the pride of every Republican voter in Centre county to advance his candidacy to the utmost.

—The following ladies and gentlemen drove over to Penns Cave on Saturday: Mr. and Mrs. Benj. M. Nead of Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Gardner Bellefonte; Mrs. Severance of Milwaukee; Mrs. J. D. Geissinger of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Rankin of Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Jenkins and Miss Dorothy Jenkins. The visitors were delighted with the scenery and natural wonders of this wonderful cave.

Judge Pennypacker Speaks to Three Thousand Republicans.

LEHIGH COUNTY'S GREAT RALLY

Senator Penrose Makes An Able Speech On National Issues—Both Speakers Warn Against a Change In the State's Political Policy.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Philadelphia, Aug. 26.—While the appearance of Judge Pennypacker and Senator Penrose at the county committee meeting in Lehigh county Saturday afternoon signalized the former's entrance into the active canvass, it must not be understood as the opening of the campaign. Rather it was a clarion call. Although the brief address of the judge was, as he put it, a word of greeting to the Republicans of Lehigh, yet there were some very solid truths embodied in it.

There were three thousand enthusiastic Republicans at the meeting, which was the largest attendance in recent years. It was held in Fogelsville in the heart of a farming country, and this large attendance was all the more remarkable by reason of the fact that to reach it one had to drive or walk, as no steam or trolley cars reached the place. Judge Pennypacker said in part:

THEN A JUDGE NOW A FARMER.

"For many years I have been a judge in Philadelphia, but for the present I have no occupation but that of a farmer, and I am one of your neighbors, living along the Perkiomen railroad. It is to be hoped that the campaign, upon our side, at least, will be conducted with decency and propriety, and that no unkindness may be exhibited in the treatment of our Democratic opponents. They are American citizens, like ourselves, interested in the maintainence of the public welfare, and also, like ourselves, getting the benefit of the prosperous condition of affairs. It is very doubtful whether even they are hopeful of bringing about a change in the control of the government, or would do it, if they had the opportunity within their grasp. They keep up an organization and make ostensible efforts from force of habit, and fear of necessity for the future; but certainly they must see that in the present it would be wise not to interfere.

"Some years ago a sailor, whose life had been spent on the sea, decided he would go through the country and find out how the land looked. In the course of his travels he entered into one of our rural graveyards, and amused himself by reading the inscriptions on the tombstones. On one of them he read: 'I am not dead but sleeping here.' He remarked: 'Well, if I were dead I would own up.'

"We do not expect our Democratic friends to own up that they are dead; but we do expect them to admit that the condition of things is fairly favorable. (Laughter and prolonged applause.)

PROSPERITY AND THE FARMER.

"The great tide of prosperity which has swept over the country since the retirement of Mr. Cleveland to private life is just now reaching the farmer. Every wave affecting business interests reaches first the dealer in stocks, then the manufacturer and merchant, and, finally, the tiller of the soil, who represents the most stable and conservative of all classes in the community. Last year the price of corn went up at least 20 cents a bushel. This year the price of oats had a like increase. Horses and cattle are bringing more money in the market. I have been supervising the conduct of a farm since 1883, and during the last year the revenues from the sale of milk were larger than ever before; and I am sure your experience has been like my own. From the increased price of farm products there must presently inevitably result an enhancement in the value of farm lands. The one is dependent upon the other. The time is not far distant when you will no longer see the farmer within fifty miles of a great centre of population, like Philadelphia, eager to sell his land for one-half what it was worth at the time of his father, and without the ability to find a purchaser. What folly it would be to strive to stem the current which is now carrying us onward.

IMPORTANCE OF NEXT ELECTION.

"While it is of some importance to determine who shall be your next governor, it is of much more importance to see that the members elected to the next legislature should be men, who, when they are sent there, can be trusted to vote for a United States Senator who will uphold Republicanism.

"A weakening of the efforts of the Republicans in Pennsylvania has ever been a precursor of a change in the control of national affairs and a prelude to national disaster. I am sure I voice your opinion, as well as my own, when I say that we do not propose to take a step, however slight, in that direction."

SENATOR PENROSE'S SPEECH.

Senator Boies Penrose made a lengthy address dealing eloquently and convincingly with Republican policies and achievements. His speech appealed particularly to the wage earner and farmer, the largest beneficiaries under the protective system. Senator Penrose said in part:

"No political party in the history of political parties can point to more splendid achievements than can the Republican party at this time. The Republican party, therefore, claims the Kinley administration. In the McKinley administration years the farm value of corn increased $250,000,000 over that of the preceding Democratic administration.

WHAT THE ELECTION OF PATTISON MEANS.

The farmers of Pennsylvania shared in this prosperity. Do they propose to help elect a Democratic governor this year, and by that action indicate that they have a weakening faith in President Roosevelt and Republican principles? For that is what the election of Pattison would mean! That is the question that heads of departments and the strangers that visit Washington are asking. Almost every day I am asked the question, "What is Pennsylvania going to do?"

The Democrats from Pennsylvania who come down to Washington on business boast that they are going to make their fight on state issues. When they are asked why they do not discuss national issues, those who are honest reply that it isn't the year for a discussion of national issues, seeing that their party has not recovered from Bryanism and free silver, and so there is nothing left to do but take up state issues. As a result when I am asked what Pennsylvania is going to do I invariably reply:

"Why elect Pennypacker of course."

DEMOCRATIC SCHEME EXPOSED

Trying to Fool the Farmers By a Misstatement of Facts.

One of the arguments upon which Democratic stump speakers this fall will largely depend to capture unthinking voters has been disclosed through some boasting remarks of Democratic State Chairman Creasy. Its first outcropping was at the meeting of the McKean county Democrats.

At that meeting the resolutions adopted made the following declaration:

"The auditor general's report of the state of Pennsylvania shows that the farmers and home owners pay $16.50 in taxes for each $1,000 in value, while the steam railroads pay but $2.75, the street railroads but $4.75, and telegraph and telephone companies but $3.20."

The statement is absolutely false in every particular. It is an attempt of the Democrats to excuse their own wretched short comings on the matter of taxation when they were in power. Republicans will not be deceived by this trick and subterfuge when they consider the deception, as exposed by the Philadelphia Press, which says:

"There is no state tax on real estate, as everybody should know by this time, since it was wiped out almost 40 years ago. There is no state tax on trades and occupations, or on horses and cattle or on household furniture, all such taxes having been repealed years ago so far as the state is concerned. Wherever taxes of this kind are imposed it is a local matter. The tax on real estate paid by the farmers and home owners is fixed by the local authorities and raised only for local purposes. If it is burdensome it is the fault of the county, borough or city authorities, for the state has absolutely nothing to do with it. It is not a subject for legislation at Harrisburg, as the McKean Democrats want to pretend.

"The state gets the bulk of its revenues from tax on corporations in various forms, and though it is complained that the corporations are not taxed enough the state revenues have been so large for many years as to support the policy, long since adopted, of returning large amounts to the counties as a means of relieving the local burdens of taxation. This policy has been greatly enlarged in the past dozen years, and with the present overflowing state treasury there is very certain to be a clamor before the next legislature for still more liberality in that direction. Without counting what the state has surrendered by the remission of taxes on real estate it is paying to the counties from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 annually. This is in the form of returns of three-fourths of the personal property tax, school appropriations, the payment of judges' salaries and charities, together with some lesser items.

"Now let us see what kind of a grievance McKean county has against the state. The auditor general went to the trouble in 1897 to prepare some tables showing the amount paid the state by each county and that returned to each county by the state. These tables show that there was paid into the state treasury by McKean county in that year $19,358.88. There was returned to the county on account of personal property tax, judge's salary and schools alone $43,589.93, to say nothing of appropriations to charities. By charging the county with its proportion of state expenses and hospital and charitable appropriations the auditor general makes the benefits received by it amount to $92,445.14, as against $19,358.88 received from the county. But we have been content to take the direct payments, which show that the county received more than twice what it paid.

"The figures for McKean county are not exceptional. They are proportionately the same for all the counties. The money is collected from corporations and paid over to the counties to relieve the local burdens of taxation. If the farmers and home owners in any county are taxed too much let them look into their local administration and seek relief there. The state does not impose a penny of tax on them."

THE DANGER THAT THREATENS

Figures Compiled By a Philadelphian Warn of Democracy's Evils.

In a little monograph which Mr. John W. Frazer, of Philadelphia, has issued, there is food for thought for every Pennsylvanian, irrespective of party. Mr. Frazer has been at considerable trouble to collect statistics showing the disastrous effects of Democratic administration on the country. Here are some of his figures:

During the four years of Cleveland, under the Wilson free trade tariff, from 1892 to 1896, our total exports of domestic merchandise amounted to $3,346,828,808. (See page 92, Statistical Abstract of the United States for 1901.)

During the four years of McKinley, from 1896 to 1900, under the Dingley protective tariff—which took the place of the Wilson free trade act—the total value of exports of domestic merchandise was $4,816,994,309, an execess of $1,470,165,501 over that of the four preceding years of Clevelandism. (See same page, same publication.)

During Cleveland's four years—1892 to 1896—the total value of exports of American domestic products, in excess of the total value of foreign products imported into the United States, was $396,858,686.

During the four years of McKinley—1896 to 1900—the total value of exports of American domestic products, in excess of the total value of foreign products imported into the United States, was $1,976,112,531, an excess of $1,579,253,845 over the four preceding years of Clevelandism. (See Statistical Abstract of the U. S., page 92 for 1901.)

The total amount of tin plate imported into the United States during the four years of free trade under Cleveland, from 1892 to 1896, was 50,629,894 pounds. During the four years under McKinley, from 1896 to 1900, our total import of tin plates was 16,567,146 pounds, a decrease of 34,062,748 pounds.

During the four years of Cleveland and the Wilson tariff—1892 to 1896—we manufactured 531,072,363 pounds of tin plate. During the four years of McKinley and the Dingley tariff we manufactured 2,665,601,263 pounds of tin plate, an excess over the four preceding years of Clevelandism of 2,134,528,900 pounds. (See page 368, Statistical Abstract of the U. S. for 1901.)

During the four years of Cleveland and depression, from 1892 to 1896, we produced 32,385,198 tons of 2,240 pounds to the ton of pig iron. During the next four years of McKinley and prosperity we produced 43,670,444 tons of 2,240 pounds of pig iron, an increase of 11,285,246 tons. (See page 367, Statistical Abstract for 1901.)

The total quantity of tons of 2,240 pounds of iron and steel railroad bars produced in the United States during Cleveland's term, from 1892 to 1896, was 5,016,209 tons. During the next four years under McKinley the total production was 7,023,833 tons, an increase of 2,007,624 tons over Cleveland's four years. (Statistical Abstract, page 367 for 1901.)

State Committee Meeting.

The formal opening of Judge Pennypacker's campaign will take place on September 3, at which time the Republican state committee will meet at the Philadelphia headquarters. Senator Quay will preside. A full attendance of the committee is expected, including the 12 members-at-large, who have been appointed by the state chairman. These are: Attorney General John P. Elkin, of Indiana; ex-Lieutenant Governor Louis A. Watres, of Lackawanna; County Recorder George M. Von Bonnhorst and George B. Oliver, of Allegheny; Colonel Jas. H. Lambert, of Philadelphia; ex-Banking Commissioner B. F. Gilkeson, of Bucks; Major General Charles Miller, of Franklin; Editor Hiram Young, of York; David H. Lane, of Philadelphia; David H. Thomas, of Lehigh; Homer Greene, of Wayne, and E. W. Owlett, of Tioga.

For Pennypacker and Penrose.

Ex-Senator N. B. Critchfield, a prominent farmer and active member of the grange of Somerset county, is quoted by the Philadelphia newspapers in an interview as saying:

"I have no means of judging what the condition may be in other parts of the state, but if it be the same as it is in the southwestern section, there can be no question regarding the election of Judge Pennypacker, as well as the return of Mr. Penrose to the senate. Among the farmers, especially of southwestern Pennsylvania, the name of Judge Pennypacker stands for everything that should be embodied in the character of a chief executive of the commonwealth.

"We have full faith both in his ability and integrity, and we feel sure that not only the agricultural interests of the state, but every other interest of our people will be safe in his hands.

"Senator Penrose is regarded as an able legislator, and one in whose hands the interests of the whole people can be confided. There need be no fear of the result in our section of the state."

—It is said that J. Pierpont Morgan is looking for a man to take the place of Charles M. Schwab, who has been compelled by reason of ill health to relinquish his position as head of the Steel Trust. Now if Mr. Morgan desires a man of unquestioned (?) business ability—we respectfully present for his consideration either Mister Patrick Garrity or Doctor Miles A. Kirk who as members of the Water Committee have demonstrated their fitness and willingness to undertake any enterprise as long as some one else pays the bills.

Contemptible.

In a venemous editorial the "Watchman" includes the name of Hon. A. E. Patton, with that of Hastings and Dresser, as one who will use his wealth to suborn the voters of this District at the elections this fall.

While as venemous as the snake, the "Watchman" is not as subtile, for its venom is evident upon the surface: with regard to Hastings because he is no candidate, with regard to Dresser because as the "Watchman" and other Democratic papers acknowledge, this Congressional District is strongly Republican and so the use of a large sum of money for Congressional purposes in the District would be not only useless but really inimical to Republicans success by the reaction it would cause. For we do not believe, as the "Watchman" evidently does that a majority of the votes can be purchased; certainly the Republican voters would not need to be purchased to vote for a clean Republican ticket. And if the Democratic voters can be purchased as the "Watchman" intimates—the democratic papers even state the amount that will be paid (their knowledge indicating that it will be paid to them) during the last week of the campaign, —it shows to what a deplorable plight their party is reduced. And for their papers to make use of such a boomerang argument shows also that they are away behind the times as to modern weapons of political warfare.

The article referred to therefore, simmered down, is evidently aimed at the Republican side of this Senatorial District and is consequently a contemptible attack on Mr. Patton. Let us therefore examine the statement as far as Mr. Patton is concerned. Mr. Patton will doubtless subscribe to the Republican campaign Fund but as this has always been his custom even when he had no idea of ever accepting a nomination, for any office, so for the "Watchman" and other papers to try to make political capital by his subscribing to the fund this year, without setting forth that this has always been his custom, shows to what dishonorable methods the Democratic Candidate satellites have been reduced in order to try to influence voters; let them tell the whole truth (if they are capable of it) and their argument falls flat.

As for the idea of Mr. Patton using his hard earned and well and honestly earned money to buy his own election, as his opponent's party papers so glibly set forth with the brazen effrontery of low political schemers, no rebuttal is needed for the reason that Mr. Patton did not seek the office, but the office seeks him, as the writer knows, being one of the many who urged him to heed the call because the Republican party desires to be noted for its clean candidates. And as Mr. Swoope said of Mr. Patton in his nominating speech, he is "self owned, unbought and unpurchasable," so Mr. Patton wants every voter to be, and he would prefer defeat to an election dishonorably purchased. His wealth was honestly earned, and those who know him, know that it will be honestly spent.

AN INDEPENDENT VOTER.

An Evening With an Author.

To J. W. Gephart, Esq., we are indebted for the rare pleasure of enjoying an evening with one of our distinguished writers of books, Mr. Irving Bacheller, author of "Eben Holden" and "D'ri and I", names which are household words throughout our land. Mr. Bacheller is interested in the Bellefonte and Nittany Furnaces, and his visit here, is for the purpose of investigating the mineral resources of the property, and to inspect the various operations connected therewith.

Friday evening Mr. Gephart entertained him at the Nittany Rod and Gun Club, for dinner, and invited the following gentlemen to meet his guest: Messrs. Ellis L. Orvis, Charles M. McCurdy, Dr. H. M. Hiller, Frank H. Clemson, L. T. Munson, Wallace Gephart and the writer.

Before dinner, the gentlemen took a walk along the trout stream for a considerable distance into the forest, and, unless we are very much mistaken, Mr. Bacheller got inspiration enough in that beautiful spot for another volume equal to "Eben Holden." Returning to the Club House, tired and hungry, we were shown to the dining room by Mr. Brower manager of the club and sat down to a feast fit for ye gods. After dinner the company adjourned to the parlor where, seated around the large wood fire in the chimney place and smoking the finest of Havanas, enjoyed listening to our noted guest, who, although of a retiring and quiet disposition, is most delightfully entertaining. Whilst he talked on various subjects, there was no egotism in any of his remarks, scarcely referring to the literary part of his career. At an early hour, all but Mr. Gephart and Mr. Bacheller left for Bellefonte, the two latter gentlemen remaining at the Club all night, in order to inspect the extensive lime stone operations at Salona. Saturday morning they went to Scotia Ore Banks and returned in the afternoon, when Mr. Bacheller left for New York.

—The business men of Mill Hall are agitating the project of establishing a National bank at that place.

MAJOR WM. H. MILLER.

Death of an Aged and Well Known Citizen of Boalsburg.

Major William H. Miller, an old pioneer citizen of Boalsburg, Centre county, expired at his home in that place Monday morning. His death was due to old age. He never had an ache or pain in all his life and his end was calm and peaceful. He was 89 years of age.

In his younger days he was a carpenter and contractor and many buildings about Boalsburg bear the marks of his handiwork. Later he engaged in agricultural pursuits and became a successful farmer, retiring about ten years ago.

During his earlier life he belonged to a local military organization in Penns Valley and Gov. Shunk conferred the title of Major upon him.

Surviving him are his second wife, and the following children: Mrs. Andrew Lytle of State College; John, who lives on the old homestead near Boalsburg, and Nora at home.

He was a consistant christian gentleman and a member of the Reformed church. The funeral took place Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Black, officiating. Interment in the Boalsburg cemetery.

The Effect of Books Upon Character

Perhaps there is no one thing which enters more deeply into the warp and woof of one's character, than the books one reads. One of the greatest blessings that can come to a young life is the love of good books. The price of keeping before the young growing mind, beautiful and uplifting images, bright, cheerful healthy thoughts from books, is of inestimable value.

The difference between the future of the boy who has formed the habit of good reading, and the one who has not, is as great as that beiween the educated and the uneducated youth, between the boy who was brought up in a comfortable home, amid pleasant surroundings, and the one who was reared in a poverty-stricken district.

Next to the actual society of a noble high-minded author, is the benefit to be gained by reading his books. The mind is brought into harmony with the hopes, the aspiration, the ideals of the writer, so that it is impossible, afterwards, to be satisfied with the low or ignoble things. The horizon of the reader broadens, his point of view changes, his ideals are higher and nobler, his whole outlook on life is more elavated.

The importance of having great models, high ideals, held constantly before the mind when it is in plastic condition, cannot be over estimated. The books we read in youth make or mar our lives. Many a man has attributed his first start in life, and all his after success to the books read in boyhood. They opened up to him his possibilities, indicated his tastes, his tendencies, helped him to find his place in life. They permit men and women to form examples that are useful in carrying out high ideals, and they bring pleasure and contentment to all.—Success.

—J. Edward May, of Camden, N. J., on the 20th of June last, in stepping from a ladder trod on a small dog and was bitten on the right ankle. He was treated by a physician at the time, and supposed that was the end of the matter. Last week he was taken ill, and in a day or two died from hydrophobia. He was a native of Blair county. His parents reside at Martinsburg, and several brothers and sisters survive, most of whom reside in Altoona and the southern end of the county. He is also survived by his wife and three children.

—We have been informed that quite a number of boys and women were allowed in the court room Tuesday, during the trial of a low disgusting case from Milesburg. It is to be hoped such was not the case, for we understand the testimony was of such a nature that only those who were compelled to listen to it would want to hear the details of the nasty affair. Women and Boys should not be permitted in the room at such a time.

—Lock Haven amateurs will sing their opera "Pirates of Penzance" in Bellefonte on Monday evening, September 15th. They have been rehearsing it for a long time and as it will be sung as a hospital benefit ought to attract a large audience. It will be interesting also because of the fact that Bellefonte amateurs have already sung the Pirates and this will afford a good opportunity of comparing the local talent of the towns.

Knights of Pythias Gaining.

At the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias in Sunbury Monday statistics were read showing that the number of lodges in the State to be 455, with a membership of 3630, an increase of 770 over last year. There was talk of a deficit in the treasury, but the report of the finance committee and trustees showed the finances in good condition.

Mrs. James H. Potter entertained a company of ladies Saturday at her home on Linn street in honor of Mrs. Frank Barnes of Washington D. C.

—Eczema, scald head, hives, itching of the skin of any sort instantly relieved, permanently cured, Doan's Ointment. At any drug store.

"It is the little rift within the lute which ever widening, makes the music mute." It is just a little rift in the health of a woman often, which gradually takes the spring from her step, the light from her eyes, the rose from her cheek and the music from her voice. Perhaps the bug-bear which has frightened the woman from the timely help needed at the beginning has been the dreaded questiona, the obnoxious examination, the local treatments, of the home physician. There is no need for these. Nor is there need for continued suffering. Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription can be relied on by every woman, suffering from what are called "female troubles," to renew the health and cure the disease. Women are astonished at the results of the use of this medicine. It not only makes weak women "robust and rosy cheeked," but it gives them back the vigor and vitality of youth. Free, Dr. Pierce's People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

tery with intent to kill. The Grand Jury ignored the bill of indictment and put the costs upon John Hill, the prosecutor. Mr. Hill was sentenced by the court accordingly.

The bill of indictment in the case of Commonwealth versus Brack Powell was ignored and the costs of prosecution put upon the county. The defendant was charged with having made an indecent assault. James McCafferty was the prosecutor.

The bill of indictment in the case of Commonwealth versus J. C. Nason was ignored and costs put upon the county. The defendant in this case was charged with having committed an assault and battery on the person of Alfred Weaver.

Court called Tuesday at 2 p. m with Hon. Jno. G. Love P. J. on the bench and the other officials in their usual places. From that time until adjournment Wednesday noon the attention of the court has been confined to the trial of several cases from Milesburg of a degrading character, the facts and circumstances of which are not fit for publication. The Grand Jury are as yet considering bills of indictment that are being laid before them by the District Attorney.

The list to be disposed of is exceptionally large this session of court.

The Grand Jury returned a true bill at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the case of the Commonwealth vs. David Miller, charged with killing his son-in-law Robt. Roach.

The Grand Jury handed in the following report at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and were then discharged from further attendance upon court:

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

The Grand Inquest inquiring in and for the County of Centre, in all matters relating to the same at August Sessions, 1902:

That they have acted upon 23 bills of indictment, of which 18 were found true bills and 5 were ignored.

We beg leave further to report that we have visited and inspected the County buildings and find all in splendid condition, everything being kept clean and in good sanitary condition.

And further report that inasmuch as the Law Library in the Court House near the Court room is very necessary for the transaction of business, and as there is now no room suitable for that purpose we respectfully recommend that the present Grand Jury room be set apart and equipped specially for a Law Library, and that the present Arbitration room and the room adjoining be fitted up for the use of the Grand Jury and witnesses attending before that body. We further recommend that water closets connected with the Court Rooms be enlarged, changed and remodeled so as to accommodate all persons attending Court, especially ladies for which there is now no provision.

Your body further recommends that a stair way be made from the lower floor to the uper room which stair-way ought to open in the rear of the Judges Bench and which shall be private.

We respectfully tender our thanks to the Honorable Judge and District Attorney for their courtesy and assistance rendered us during our deliberations.

A LASTING EFFECT.

This evidence should prove every claim in Bellefonte.

Relief from the pains and aches of a bad back is always welcome to every backache sufferer in Bellefonte, but to cure a lame, weak or aching back is what is wanted. Cure it so it will stay cured. It can be done. Here's the strongest evidence to prove it.

Mr. James Rine. West High Street, employed in the planing mill says: "I can speak as highly now of Doan's Kidney Pills as I did years ago and my case is pretty good evidence that the cures made by them are not temporary. I have not had any of the severe pains in my back since I used Doan's Kidney Pills while before I could not put on my shoes and could hardly drag myself around. Though I have had slight touches of backach it never amounted to much. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to hundreds of people and I know of those who have had the greatest relief from suffering by using them I can say they are reliable and permanent in their effects.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

FOURIER THE PROPHET.

How He Spoiled His Predictions by Going Into Details.

It is said of Fourier, the socialist, that he had all the qualities of a prophet except vagueness. His craze for precision spoiled his predictions for us. The Speaker quotes Charles Gide, the economist, as cleverly showing what Fourier lost by this:

"Thus if writing before the advent of railways he had confined himself to stating that a man would in a single day be able to start from Marseilles, breakfast in Lyons and dine in Paris his prevision would have been considered most remarkable, but since he adds that the journey will be accomplished upon the back of a supple and elastic porter, who will be the 'antilion,' we roar with laughter.

"Or again if he had said simply that people would some day be able to communicate instantaneously with each other from one end of the world to the other Fourier would have been credited with a rare degree of intellectual foresight, but as he thought best to descend to the particular, 'A certain vessel leaving London arrives in China today; tomorrow the planet Mars, having been advised of the arrivals and movements of ships by the astronomers of Asia, will transmit the list to the astronomers of London,' we again roar with laughter and forget that he has arrived by the fantastic machinery of the imagination at the same results as the telegraph and the telephone."

Not Buried In a Coffin.

Of the many thousands of bodies of soldiers who are buried in Arlington cemetery there is but one, and that an officer, whose remains were not inclosed in a coffin. The late General M. C. Meigs during the civil war and for many years subsequently was quartermaster general of the United States army. Some years before his death he had erected at Arlington a large granite tomb. By his direction the sculptor cut a place in the center of the big stone exactly the size of the former's body. The sculptor was pledged to secrecy, nor did the general inform any one of the fact.

When General Meigs died, his body was incased in a handsome casket and conveyed to the cemetery. When, however, an attempt was made to put the casket in the sarcophagus, it was found to be impossible, and the undertaker had to remove the body from the casket and put it in the sarcophagus with no other covering than the general's uniform.—Washington Post.

Lightning and Thunderclouds.

In a lecture on "Rainclouds and Lightning" a scientist explained the extreme blackness and grotesque shape of thunderclouds as being caused by electrification and said that occasionally lightning goes upward from ground to cloud. Lightning continues until the thundercloud has risen too high above the subjacent ground for the tension requisite. As the cloud lifts the lightning's path becomes more vertical. Thunderheads may be seen 200 miles.

Window glass has been broken by heavy thunder. The cumuli rise to a height of some six miles, then slop over and form a haze (thunder haze). Lightning will fall vertically from the extreme limit of the haze cloud sometimes, though no rain is falling. Lightning causes the clouds to partially fall to the earth in showers, and so itself causes rain.

Truth.

The cornerstone of character, that on which the whole edifice is to rest, must be truth. Be truthful in word and deed and act, faithful to your conception of right, and you can no more help building a noble character than the earth can help moving in its orbit. A boy who has the courage to tell the truth under all circumstances, even when it may appear to be to his own disadvantage, will never do a mean, unmanly or dishonest thing. He will not stoop to do anything questionable, no matter what material gain it may promise.—Success.

The Chinese King.

The king is the favorite musical instrument in Chinese temples. In its most perfect form it consists of a number of large flat stones of different shapes and tones. The sound is that of a chime of bells and is singularly clear and musical. The stones are said to be a peculiar variety of basalt found in the mountains to the north of China.

Scotch and Norwegian.

The lowland Scotch are Norse, with a difference. They tell me that broad Scotch would carry one through Norway. I don't believe it. But a Scot could, from the resemblance of his dialect to the Norse, learn the latter in a shorter time than an Englishman.—London Truth.

CHELSEA'S NOTED BUNS.

All London Used to Visit Mrs. Hands on Good Friday.

However religious observances may change in England, the eating of hot cross buns on Good Friday is not likely to die out. Still, enthusiasm in this particular has considerably declined since the days when Mrs. Hands kept the Chelsea Bun House at the corner of Jews' row, now Pimlico road. So many people were in the habit of flocking there on Good Friday in order to eat hot cross buns that on one occasion 50,000 persons assembled there, and £250 was taken in the day for buns alone. After this the inhabitants of Chelsea protested against the noise and disturbance this caused, and Mrs Hands, fearing to be restrained by the law, issued in 1793 a quaint proclamation, stating how, "desirous, therefore of testifying her regard and obedience to those laws by which she is happily protected, she is determined, though much to her loss, not to sell cross buns on that day to any person whatever but Chelsea buns as usual."

This Mrs. Hands was something of a character in her own way. The royal family and many of the aristocracy used to visit her in the morning, and Queen Charlotte even presented her with a silver half gallon mug containing 5 guineas. The house remained in the possession of her family for some time, as Sir Richard Phillips, writing a few years before its destruction, mentions. After admitting that for upward of thirty years he had never passed the house without filling his pockets, he goes on to say, "These buns have afforded a competency and even wealth to four generations of the same family and it is singular that their delicate flavor, lightness and richness have never been successfully imitated." When Ranelagh was closed, the Bun House declined in popularity, though as late as 1839 24,000 buns were sold on Good Friday alone.—London Chronicle.

POWERFUL VOICES.

Some Historic Shriekers Who Antedated the Famous Stentor.

The question has often been asked "Who was the most loud voiced man of history?" The answer usually is that it was Stentor, of whom Homer says his voice was as loud as that of fifty other men combined and from which we get the phrase "stentorian voiced." But we have record of two historic "shriekers" anterior to Homer. We read where Simeon and Levi fought against the twelve men of the city of Sarton and that Levi beheaded one man with his own sword. In chapter 88, verse 41, of the book referred to the story is related in the following words. "And the sons of Jacob seeing that they could not prevail over the twelve, Simeon gave a loud and tremendous shriek, and the eleven remaining men were stunned by the awful shriek."

In chapter 39, same book, verse 19, we find the following account of the battles of the sons of Jacob with the inhabitants of the city of Gaash. It seems as though the battle was both in the front and in the rear and that the warriors on the wall were throwing spears and hurling stones upon the sons of Jacob. What next occurred, as related in chapter and verse above cited, is recorded in these words:

"And Judah, seeing that the men of Gaash were getting too heavy for them, gave a piercing and tremendous shriek, and all the men of Gaash were terrified at Judah's cry, and men fell from the wall at the sound of his powerful shriek, and all those that were without as well as those within the city were greatly afraid of their lives."

The Canary Is a Little Pig.

The canary is always regarded as a small eater, just as the pig is notorious for its gluttony. People with small appetites are often twitted for not eating more than enough to feed a canary, and this led a man who was a tiny eater to watch the yellow bird and report.

He found that a canary that weighed 247 grains ate just thirty-two times its own weight in a month; that is, it ate rather more than its own weight on an average every day. Anyone who watches the little bird will notice that it is always eating. Now, says the investigator, a pig doesn't eat its own weight every day, glutton as it is. Hence he thinks that the canary deserves to be classed as a little pig.—London Answers.

Ran Without Legs.

A certain congressman has a smart granddaughter, whose clever sayings are the delight of her parents. The other day she came to her grandfather with her face all smiles.

"Grandpa," she said, "I saw something this morning running across the kitchen floor without any legs. What do think it was?"

Mr. Congressman studied for awhile and gave up. "What was it?" he asked.

"Water," said the youngster triumphantly.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Proceeding With Caution.

"Are you sure that your arguments are calculated to impress people with

Evarts and Reed.

William M. Evarts once met Thomas B. Reed in the capitol at Washington and said to him, "Mr. Speaker, I half suspect that you believe that a deliberative body is like a woman—if it deliberates it is lost."

The English channel is nowhere more than 900 feet deep. The Irish sea is 2,130 feet.

One of the commonest forms of lunacy is that when the insane person imagines all others have no sense.—Memphis Cimmercial Appeal.

CATCH PHRASES.

Their Utility In Advancing the Interests of Business Men.

There are many instances of where a suitable catch line well drilled into people has been of great value in building business. The best catch line is one that fits your business best, and the discoverer of such a line is apt to be due more to inspiration than to effort. Pick the distinctive feature of your stock or business methods and endeavor to express it in a breath.

If you can coin a phrase that expresses your central business idea or emphasizes some feature that marks your store alone, you can make good use of it. It puts into condensed form an idea that will get hold of people and influence them if persistently presented to them. One fact about your business well lodged in the heads of people is as good as a score that do not penetrate.

You can make people believe about what you like if you go about it properly. If a man comes to you today and tells you there will be a panic inside of six months, you will pay no attention to him. If another comes tomorrow with the same story, he will get no attention, but you will idly wonder what is getting into folks. The third man you will argue the matter with. The fourth will get more of a hearing, and you will begin to see signs of disaster yourself. By the time the tenth man has made the statement you will be ready to tell folks the same story yourself.

Probably you yourself could not be influenced in such a manner, but the common run of people are built that way and will believe what they are told often enough. That is why an expressive catch phrase does good. It comes to stand for you and your methods and of necessity is remembered when goods in your line are wanted.

As ordinarily used such a phrase is of little value, because it is not properly hammered into people. Such a line should go on letter heads, billheads, stationery, envelopes, should go into every ad. or circular, should be seen about the store and should appear on labels. Put it on a sticker to attach to goods and packages. Let people see it everywhere. If it means what it says, people are going to respond to it. —American Druggist.

An Optimistic Cripple.

A one legged newsboy had been hopping about on his crutch selling afternoon "extras," and when there was a lull in the business, owing to a falling off in the crowds, he sat down for a brief rest.

"How did you lose your leg?" I asked.

"Cable car," he said, with the street urchin's characteristic economy of words.

"Too bad!" I remarked.

"Oh, but it might 'a' been worse, sir," the boy replied. "The company paid the doctor and gave mother $800. That paid all our debts and left us $500 in bank, and it's all there 'cept $40 we had to take out when mother was sick, and I sell more papers than most of the boys, just 'cause I've a crutch. There's one of my customers now."—New York Times.

Her One Success.

In the civil war time a western woman who had lost her husband in the field and who hoped to win a livelihood for herself and her little ones by writing sent to Harper's Magazine a story which had no special distinction and was returned. In the desperate mood that followed this rejection she sat down with pen aflame and told "why I wrote it," and her story under that title was accepted and published, winning a sympathetic response from all its readers. But this production, the echo of a vital moment, was her one story in the magazine. Oliver Wendell Holmes said that anybody could write one interesting novel if he could truly tell the story of his own life.—Harper's Magazine.

Obeyed Orders.

"What was the cause of that awful racket and disturbance in your office just before you came?" asked one of the tenants on the third floor.

"You know that young cowboy that came yesterday to begin the study of law with me?" said the other.

"Yes."

"Well, I thought he might as well begin at the bottom, and I told him that when he came down this morning the first thing for him to do would be to clean out the office. He found half a dozen fellows there waiting for me.

Cannibal Trout.

Trout are cannibals, and it is a moot question whether in some waters large trout should not be systematically destroyed. Dartmoor fishermen are in favor of killing them. They say that fish in their streams of one pound to two pounds weight are hardly ever caught by ordinary means and live entirely on their own brethren. A two pound Devon trout is probably responsible for the death of several stones' weight of his own kind.—Nature Notes.

Ants as Examples.

"Look at the birds in the trees," said the man who wants to keep house; "they wouldn't think of living in a crowded tenement."

"Yes," answered his wife, "but look at the ants. They always live in an apartment house. And every one knows that ants are smarter than birds."—Washington Star.

A Business Head.

"You lent him the money to buy that mule from you?"

"Yassir," answered Mr. Erastus Pinkley. "It doesn't look like business, but it were sech a good chance to get debes' of de trade dat I couldn' he'p advancin' de cash."—Washington Star.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

AN ANGRY MUSICIAN.

Amusing and Pathetic Story of Constant's Picture, "Too Late!"

An amusing and pathetic story is told of Benjamin Constant's first picture to attract attention. It was called "Too Late!" and represented Fortune and Glory visiting an artist just as he had breathed his last. The artist was lying on the bed. The figure of Death stood near the door, through which Fortune, carrying a box of money, and Glory, bearing laurels, had just entered.

The artist received many letters from those who had seen the painting. One was written by a professor of music, an old man, who expressed in touching words the emotion he had felt at the sight of the artist's work. He asked Constant to visit and talk to him about "Too Late!"

The invitation was accepted, but as soon as the old professor saw the artist he uttered an ejaculation of surprise and anger. "Why, you are quite a youth!" he exclaimed. "I thought you were old and, like myself, had spent your life in vain endeavor to obtain recognition of your abilities. I conceived that picture to be the last despairing cry of a man as unfortunate as I am. I find you are quite young, and your eyes are full of hope. You are a bumbug, sir, and I request that you leave this house immediately!"

Got the Fish In.

On the occasion of the opening of parliament during one of the years when Pitt was prime minister the lords and commons were greatly perplexed by a reference to the goldfish at Windsor castle which was introduced into the king's speech and read by Pitt. It was not until after both Pitt and King George were dead that the explanation came out. The prime minister, it is related, had come to the king at the palace with the speech from the throne fully prepared. He found the king seated at the edge of the basin of a fountain earnestly regarding his goldfish sporting about in the water. Pitt read the speech. "Does your majesty approve the discourse?" asked the minister. "I will approve it, but only on one condition," said the king, "and that is that you introduce in it some reference to these fishes." The king was obdurate and refused his authorization of the royal speech until Mr. Pitt had promised faithfully to say something in it about the royal goldfishes.

Where the Joke Was.

A belated wayfarer was passing an English public house late at night when a foreigner was ejected therefrom who bore all the signs of extremely rough usage, but nevertheless was laughing immoderately.

"What is the joke?" the gentleman asked.

"Why," said the other, "a man came up to me in the bar just now, gave me a fearful punch on the nose and said, 'Take that, you blooming Norwegian,'" and he fell to laughing again.

"But," the gentleman said, "there's nothing very funny in that."

"No," the man answered, "but then he hit me a crack in the eyes and afterward knocked out my teeth, saying, 'And take that, too, you blooming Norwegian.'"

"But still I can't see anything funny."

"Ho, ho, ho!" the other yelled. "The joke is that I'm a Swede!"

Division of Labor.

Helene—How long did you stay in Paris on your trip to France?

Emma—Oh, a week altogether.

Helene—But surely you could not take in everything in such a short time!

Emma—But we did, all the same. You see, there were three of us. Mamma took in the picture galleries, I studied the shops and things, and papa examined the local color in the cafes.—Exchange.

Excellent Explanation.

"Before marriage she was an I. After marriage she leaned on another I, and they formed an X. Of course she's cross, and so are you, I'll bet."—New York Times.

A MAN AGAINST A NATION.

The Most Curious European War That Ever Was Waged.

The most curious European war ever waged was that which in the sixteenth century, the period of the reformation and the renaissance, was carried on single handed for between five and six years between a bankrupt grocer of Berlin and the elector of Saxony, who was the most powerful German prince of the period. The grocer's name was Hans Kohlhase, and the immediate cause of the quarrel was the arresting of two of his horses in the elector's territory, he being a subject of the elector of Brandenburg. Failing to get redress, he adopted what was then a perfectly legal expedient and declared formal war on the realm of Saxony. The declaration was accepted in due form, and the war began.

The extraordinary part of the story is that the grocer kept the war up for nearly six years practically single handed and even went to the extremity of declaring war on his own sovereign in the meantime before he was caught. He burned farms and even villages, employed mercenaries after the fashion of the times and made himself the terror of the district. He was finally influenced to stop hostilities by Luther, and after he had taken the sacrament from his hands he was betrayed into a further act of hostility by treachery and, being captured, suffered death on the wheel after refusing an act of grace which granted him the painless and honorable death of the sword. The story is perhaps the strangest of all the romances of that romantic age.

He Saw the Joke.

Here is a true story of a curious personality well known to many professional men in London today: He is a Scot, whose business ability is above the average, but everything he does is done with the air of a man constantly wrestling with some problem of the soul. He rarely speaks unless spoken to. He never smiles, and his eyes have a fixed but intense expression. One day he was returning to London with several companions. The whole party were Scotch, but the companions were of genial type. One of them told a humorous tale, over which the rest laughed uproariously. Not so the human problem. He sat in a corner of the railway carriage glowering at his mirthful friends. Half an hour afterward, however, when all were standing at a street corner before separating he took one aside and said solemnly and slowly: "Ye would obeatrve that I did na' laugh at yond' story. Well, I saw the joke. Ye might not think it, but I have a keen sense of humor."—London News.

An Impossible Task.

The committee waited upon the successful man.

"Your fame has preceded you," they said as he entered the room. He smiled serenely. "I am rather well known," he admitted modestly.

"You have given names to sleeping cars, new cigars, health foods and games—names that have pleased the public and your patrons?"

The successful man bowed.

"Well," said the spokesman, "we have a new baby at our house, and we have come to you to select a name that will please her parents, sisters and brothers, grandparents, cousins, uncles, aunts and friends of the family and herself later on."

The successful man frowned sternly.

"Sir," he said, "I do not undertake the impossible!"—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Telling the Weather From Mists.

The motion of mists, rapid or slow, was regarded as one of the best methods of foretelling the approach of rain or snow. When there was a mist before the rise of the full moon, if clouds were seen in the west before the sun rose or there was a mist in the fields before sunrise, wet weather was expected. When the mists vanished rapidly and the moon seemed to rise faster than usual, fine weather was sure to gladden the hearts of the merrymakers on the succeeding day. When the winds changed and the clouds flew along on "tail," the farmers predicted a storm.

Railroad Time Folders.

The average person who picks up a railroad time folder does not realize the enormous amount of work which the preparation of such a publication involves.

The big Burlington system, for instance, has a general time folder made up from sixteen different division time tables. The folder contains 2,000 names of towns, gives the schedules of over 500 trains, and whenever there is a change in time 60,000 figures have to be carefully checked and corrected.

No Smoking.

There is one country in the world where it is considered a crime to smoke—Abyssinia. The law forbidding tobacco dates from the year 1642. It was at first merely intended to prevent priests from smoking in the churches, but it was taken too literally, and nowadays even foreigners have to be careful not to be seen smoking.

Knocked Into a Cocked Hat.

The expression "knocked into a cocked hat" is familiar to every one, but perhaps its origin is not so generally known. Cocked hat was a variety of the game of bowls in which only three pins were used, set up at the angles of a triangle. When, in bowling tenpins, all were knocked down except the three at the corners, the set was said to be "knocked into a cocked hat," whence the popular expression for depriving anything of its main body, character or purpose.

A BIG ROUND-UP.

Alleged Green Goods' Swindlers Placed Under Arrest in Greater New York.

FIVE MEN AND A WOMAN

Postoffice Inspector Boyle Has Secured a Complainant Who Says He Paid $300 For Green Paper.

PRISONERS HELD IN $2.500 EACH

NEW YORK, August 22.—What is said to be the biggest round-up of green goods swindlers ever made by the federal authorities in this city was announced yesterday. Five men and a woman were taken into custody and an entire green goods plant was captured. Four of the prisoners, Joseph R. Baker, Elmer Brown, S. Gottlieb and the latter's wife, were arrested in Newark, and George Brown and Thomas Henry were arrested in this city.

According to Postoffice Inspector Michael Boyle, he has secured as complainant against the prisoners Antonio Caperosse, a butcher of New Haven, Conn., who paid $300 in cash and received green paper in return. Many complaints of green goods victims have reached the postoffice recently and the alleged "plant" was located in Newark after much work. Inspectors Cortelyou and Duryea, of Philadelphia, and Bullman and McMillan, of Boston, were brought to this city and set to work under the direction of the local inspectors. Wednesday the inspectors saw a man come to the house in the company of Elmer Brown, the alleged "steerer," and followed by Baker, who, it is said, was the "trailer." The pair entered the house and later came out The victim carried a miniature trunk about ten inches long and four wide. The "steerer" took the victim to an express office, where the little trunk which the victim thought contained $5,000 in bills printed from stolen government plates was shipped to New Haven. Then the inspectors placed the "steerer" and the "trailer" under arrest. The victim said he had paid $300 for the supposed money and was thunderstruck when the inspectors secured the trunk and showed him it contained nothing but slips of green paper cut the size of bills.

A few moments after Brown and Baker had been arrested "the plant" was raided and the Gottleibs were taken into custody. In the house all manner of green goods paraphernalia was found circular letters, a dozen or more of the little trunks and piles of green paper. Henry and Brown were arrested last night at a ferry. All the prisoners were arraigned yesterday and held in $2,500 bail each.

An Ostrich to Race at Lycoming Fair

The Lycoming fair this year, which will be held on Sept. 2, 3, 4 and 5, promises to be one of the best ever held in the city since the organization of the association. Arrangements are about completed, and the line of entertainment will be an especially interesting one. As for horse racing, there will be something decidedly fast. The association offers $4,800 in purses, which will attract the fast horses traveling on the Lake Erie and other circuits. In view of the fact that the local fair will follow the Punxsutawney and Hornellsville fairs, the field of horses will be unusually large. In the free-for-all race the purse is $600.

Numerous attractions have been secured, and no fakers will be allowed on the grounds. The list of side shows will be enlarged, and includes trained dogs, horses, mules, an alligator and an ostrich farm.

One of the features of the fair, and which will prove a big drawing card, will be "Oliver W.," the racing ostrich. This bird is a wonder, and hitched to a vehicle he will "go" in races with fast horses. The ostrich has a public record of one minute and four seconds for one half mile. On Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 2, he will take part in one race, and on Wednesday and Thursday he will race two horses each day. On Friday he will take part in only one race.

The air association has secured half fares from all towns within a radius of seventy-five miles.

NERVOUS EXHAUSTION.

An Every Day History—High Strung—Nervous—Excitable Constant Headaches—No Rest at Night—Heart Weak—Appetite Poor —Loss of Weight —Strength All Gone.

Read The Following.

Miss Barbara Brock of Coldwell, Pa., 12 miles out of Lock Haven, Pa., says: —"I have been extremely nervous for a long time—any unusual noise would upset me. I simply had no appetite at all and felt weak and easily tired. My head ached a great deal and at night I was troubled so much with sleeplessness. I got some of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and they did me a wonderful lot of good—my appetite returned—the headaches left me and I felt well and strong in every way after using the pills."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D. are on every package. For sale at Krumrine's Drug Store

Bellefonte Lime Co.

There are not many persons in Bellefonte who know any thing in relation to the above Co. The operation itself is at Salona, but is owned by our citizens. The officers are: J. W. Gephart, President; John P. Harris, Sec'y and Treas; the directors being J. W. Gephart, John P. Harris, Frank Warfield and L. T. Munson.

In company with Mr. Harris we visited it Friday and were surprised to find such an extensive concern. The capacity being 500 tons of ballast and 200 tons of furnace stone per day. In order to produce this, it requires eighty laborers, besides a large plant for breaking and screening the stone and it is one of the busiest places we have seen for a long time.

The machinery for screening was manufactured and placed in position by J. H. Lingle of Bellefonte and is modern in every detail.

The drilling is done with hydraulic machines which saves a vast amount of time and labor and enables them to have such a large output.

A great amount of the Railroad Ballast manufactured is shipped as far north as New York state, and the furnace stone is brought to Bellefonte.

The operation is under the management of Mr. George Nonnemacher who is a practical Quarryman, having been engaged in the business for many years.

W. C. T. U. STAR COURSE.

Six High Grade Attractions for $1.25.

Arrangements have been made for a series of magnificent entertainments to be given in Petrikin Hall during the coming season.

The Course this year undoubtedly is one of the most attractive ever presented to the people of Bellefonte, as will be readily conceded when the following admirable list is scanned :

Nov. 21—Maro, that prince of magicians.

Dec. 4—Rev. Frank Dixon, of Hartford.

Dec. 19 Brockway Jubilee Singers.

Jan. 20—Chicago Glee Club.

Feb. 24—Patricolo Grand Concert.

March 3—Coit Novelty Company.

Miss Myrtle A. Graves, representing the Brockway Lecture Bureau of Pittsburg, is in town to assist in the interest of the Course.

The town will be canvassed for the sale of Course tickets and it is hoped that the people will give their liberal patronage by subscribing for tickets when called upon by the solicitors.

All Were Saaved

"For years I suffered such untold misery from Bronchitis," writes J. H. Johnston, of Broughton, Ga., "that often I was unable to work. Then when everything else failed, I was wholly cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. ### The Funeral of Edmund Shrom.

The funeral of the late Edmund Shrom will take place Sunday afternon at 1 o'clock from the residence of his brother-in-law G. D. Ingram on East Lamb street. It will be under the auspices of the Improved Order of Red Men. The Logan Fire Company will attend in a body.

THE COLLEGE OF MUSIC at Freeburg, Pa., is in session with the largest attendance of any previous Summer term, and to continue without vacation until the holidays. Pupils admitted any day for a term of six or more weeks. Piano, Organ, Singing, Band and String instruments taught. For catalogue address, with stamp, HENRY B. MOYER.

—E. R. Chambers Esq., is quite ill at his home on East Linn street.

THE BUSINESS MEN'S PICNIC.

The Day Was Fair and the Attendance Immense—Most Successful Event of the Kind Ever Held.

Notwithstanding the threatening appearance of the weather on Thursday people were not deterred from arranging to attend this popular gathering of the business men of Centre and Clinton counties. Extensive arrangements had been made to occupy every hour of the day pleasantly and with the view of entertaining the large number of persons who would be present.

Early in the morning vehicles of all classes and descriptions were seen wending their way towards the Park, loaded with men, women and children and the Central Railroad was taxed to its utmost to convey those who went by rail. By 12 o'clock the immense grounds, though not crowded, were just comfortably filled with a happy gathering of young and old, rich and poor, who certainly, from appearances, were enjoying themselves.

In the afternoon a running race took place on the new track for a purse of $50 which resulted as follows: 1st prize $20, won by "Danny Martin" owned by Wm. Kessinger, of Mill Hall; 2d prize $15, by "Queen Bee" owned by George Sunday, of Bellefonte; 3d prize $10, by "Abe" owned by Abe Baum, of Bellefonte; 4th prize $5.00, by "Maggie M" owned by George Valentine, of Bellefonte. Time, 44, 44, 46 seconds.

Between the heats of the running race there was a base ball game between Renovo and Lock Haven, which resulted as follows: Lock Haven 17, Renovo 9.

The merry-go-round was a well patronized institution and the various wheels of fortune throughout the grounds raked in the ducats of the greenies. While we do not approve of this game, it is certainly interesting to stand and watch the poor, innocent victims pass in their money and get back nothing. They can blame no one but themselves and they have the sympathy of no one. All through the afternoon and evening the young people tripped the light fantastic in the Pavilion to the sweet strains of music by the Germania Orchestra of Lock Haven and a pleasant feature of the entire day was the music by the bands, which were stationed in different locations through the Park. In the evening there was a magnificent display of fire works under the direction of John D. Sourbeck. There was also a cake walk which attracted the attention and amused the great crowd present. Those taking part were all of the male persuasion but of different races. The first prize of $5 was awarded to Bun Walker of Bellefonte; the second prize of $3 to Guy McIntyre and Strohm Lose, both of our town, and the third prize of $2 to Joe Barns and Linn Graham.

The best of order prevailed throughout the entire day, little or no drunkenness or rowdyism being visible. Joe Rightnour, the County Detective, succeeded in capturing a large satchel which some enterprising individual had filled with bottles of whiskey and was supplying thirsty patrons on the grounds.

The officials of the Central Railroad were handicapped for want of cars, but, notwithstanding this fact, succeeded in transporting the vast crowd in a more satisfactory manner than on former occasions. We learn that over six thousand tickets were sold, which will give an idea as to the number of people safely carried over their road. Not an accident occurred to mar the pleasure of the day and although tired everyone went home satisfied with themselves and the manner in which every arrangement had been carried out.

The Executive Committee had labored hard to make this annual reunion a success and are entitled to the thanks of everyone interested for the expense and trouble they had gone to and there is but little doubt the same gentlemen will be requested to continue in the same position for another year.

We have no fault to find with the Railroad Company for they certainly did everything in their power to accommodate the people, but would suggest that the next time there are so many persons at the Park that cards be hung on the cars showing their destination as everyone was at sea, not knowing whether trains were bound for Mill Hall or Bellefonte. This would be no expense and but little trouble and would save much confusion and annoyance.

We cannot close this article without publicly thanking Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Rees for their kindness and hospitality in inviting us to take dinner with them. We accepted, of course, and such a dinner! everything, and lots of it. We will live upon the recollection of that meal for a long time.

EDMUND J. SHROM.

Died at Philipsburg Friday Morning After Brief Illness.

The many friends of Edmund J. Shrom were very much shocked Friday morning when the news reached here of his death which occurred at Huggs Hotel in Philipsburg at 3 o'clock that morning. About a week ago Mr. Shrom went to Philipsburg to work at his trade that of painting and on Wednesday he was taken ill with inflammation of the bowels, death ensuing as above stated.

Deceased was born in Bellefonte and was 42 years of age. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Shrom, both deceased. He was a painter by occupation and worked at his trade here and at Atlantic City. He had just returned from the latter place a few weeks ago.

Deceased is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Charles Watson, of Osceola; Mrs. Frank Gilbert, of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mrs. David Auchmuty, of Albany, N. Y.; Mrs. Will Cowdrick, of Niagara Falls; Mrs. Samuel Skean, of Pottstown; Mrs. Martin Haynes, of Rossiter; Mrs. G. D. Ingram, of Bellefonte, John, in the Navy; and David (present whereabouts unknown.)

Edmund Shrom was a lifelong resident of Bellefonte with a large circle of friends and acquaintances and the bereaved relatives have the sympathy of the whole community in their sad affliction.

The Chateau Wine Cellar.

Of the Speer N. J. Wine Co., at Passaic, N. J., is worth visiting and worth the time for anyone who is curious to see rare old Ports, Burgundy and Claret. This is the Chateau private stock cellar, most of the wines in the cellar are not for sale but kept for curiosity and future generations. They are supplying some orders for the 22 year old Port of which they have to spare and sell at $15.00 to $18.00 per dozen quart bottles.

J. S. McCargar of the Equitable Insurance Company is spending a week at Atlantic City, where he went to join Manager Woods' party of Solicitors, who are being entertained by that gentleman at that popular seaside resort. William B. Rankin has also gone to Atlantic City, but we do not know whether he is included in the above party or not, but presume he is. If not, he deserves to be, for "Billy" does lots of big work for the Company.

ENTERS THE ONE CENT FIELD.

Philadelphia's Great Home Newspaper, The Press, Now Sold for One Cent.

"The Philadelphia Daily Press," announces its change in price from a two cent to a one cent paper.

With nothing changed except the price "The Press," at one cent, will continue to be the great home newspaper, but with a new field of activity. Its news pages, it departments will represent trained efficiency and its supremacy will be, as before, along the lines that have given it weight and authority, place and prominence at home and at large.

"The Press" gives more news than any paper published in Pennsylvania; better reports of the markets, making it invaluable to the shipper; the best Woman's page, which makes it a particularly helpful home newspaper and treats fully and fairly all political issues. In resources, enterprise and distinction of contributors, it is without a rival in Pennsylvania and stands in the front rank of the leading papers of the country.

"The Sunday Press" will remain at 5 cents a copy.

LAST OF THE SEASON.

Low Rate Excursion to Atlantic City, Cape May, Etc., via Pennsylvania Railroad.

The last Pennsylvania Railroad low-rate ten-day excursion for the present season from North Bend, Troy, Bellefonte, Williamsport, Mocanaqua, Sunbury, Shenandoah, Dauphin and principal intermediate stations (including stations on branch roads), to Atlantic City, Cape May, Ocean City, Sea Isle City, Avalon, Anglesea, Wildwood or Holly Beach will be run on Thursday, August 28.

Excursion tickets, good to return by regular trains within ten days, will be sold at very low rates. Tickets to Atlantic City will be sold via the Delaware River Bridge Route, the only all-rail line, or via Market Street Wharf, Philadelphia.

Stop over can be had at Philadelphia, either going or returning, within limit of ticket.

For information in regard to specific rates and time of trains consult hand bills or apply to agents or to E. S. Harrar, Division Ticket Agent, Williamsport, Pa.

Additional Step on Passenger Coaches

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has authorized a change in the steps of all the passenger coaches. As each car is returned to the shops the alteration will be made. At present the coaches are equipped with three steps, but the new cars are to have four. This change will cause the steps to drop nearer the rail and will enable passengers to get on the platform with more ease.

Pays 4 per cent. on Saving Deposits, subject to withdrawal of $100 without notice, and 2 per cent. on Checking Accounts. Interest compounded semi-annually. Deposits $10,000,000. Do all your banking by mail. Send for two-hundred year calendar free. 323 Fourth ave., Pittsburg, Pa.

Best Way to Cure Backache.

Backaches are caused by disorder in the kidneys. Foley's Kidney Cure will make the kidneys right. Take no substitute. C. M. Parrish.

New Pump and Wheel for The Water Works.

Mr. Fritz, of the Fritz Water Wheel Company, of Hanover, Pa., was in town today in relation to placing a wheel of his manufacture at the Water Works. Mr. Fritz says that with one of his Wheels and Pumps, two hundred and fifty thousand gallons of water can be pumped into the reservoir every twenty-four hours. The only obstacle in the way of installing his plant is the fact of the Borough already having one in place, and the Water Committee are so enamored with the present apparatus that they will hardly entertain a proposition to replace it.

The representative also proposes to make certain changes, which will reduce the expense of our works about one-half. We hope the Council will consider his propositions and if they think them feasible and ecomonical, that they will adopt them. They will be compelled, however to make some arrangement with the firm who placed the new pump and wheel in position before anything can be done.

Beck—Heberling.

Daniel Beck, of Center Line, and Miss Sarah Heberling, of Penn's Furnace, were married at the home of the bride Wednesday, the 20th, at noon. About fifty guests were present. The newly married couple left almost immediately for a week's honeymoon at Atlantic City, and are expected to arrive at the Beck home next Wednesday, where a reception awaits them.

The groom is a son of Isaac Beck. He comes of an old and highly respected Half Moon township family and is an industrious young man, having charge of the homestead farm. The bride is a daughter of Joseph Heberling and is a very excellent young lady with many friends.

Poisoning the System.

It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system, causing headache, dullness and melancholia at first, then unsightly eruptions and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. DeWitt's Little Early Risers prevent this trouble by stimulating the liver and promote easy, healthy action of the bowels. These little pills do not act violently but by strengthening the bowels enable them to perform their own work. Never gripe or distress. C. M. Parrish.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

—Curtis Y. Wagner lost a valuable horse on Saturday night, its death was caused by colic.

—A valuable horse belonging to Samuel Hosband, of Unionville, dropped dead at Monday while standing tied in front of Greists store at Unionville.

—Dr. A. W. Hafer has placed us under obligations by handing the Editor some delicious pears of his own cultivation, they were the largest and finest we ever ate.

—We call attention to a communication in another column from a Independant voter in relation to our Candidate for State Senator Hon. Alex. E, Patton.

—Christian Buck, of Unionville, has just finished harvesting 190 bushels of oats from 3 acres of land. This is over 60 bushel to an acre. Can anyone beat that?.

—Frank Johnson, a well known and respectable colored citizen of this place, and a veteran of the Civil War, died at an early hour Monday morning after a brief illness.

—Barber Frank Sasserman is the proud father of a pretty little baby girl that arrived at his home on South Water street Tuesday. Both mother and babe are getting along nicely. Accept our congratulations.

—The Reformed congregation held their annual Harvest Home services Sunday. The church was handsomely decorated, and there was a fine display of fruits grain and vegetables. Rev. Ambrose Schmidt preached an appropriate sermon and the choir rendered some choice music.

—The Friends meeting house was filled at both services Sunday, to hear Rev. Dr. Richard Thomas, who preached two excellent sermons. Dr. Thomas is well known in Bellefonte and is always greeted with a large attendance whenever he comes to Bellefonte.

—Mary Felty, the 4-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Woods Bathgate, of Altoona, died at the home of its grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Bathgate at Lemont last Tuesday of indigestion. The funeral took place last Thursday. Interment at Slab Cabin cemetery. Rev. Hepler officiated.

—Henry C. Quigley Esq. will remove his office on Sept 1st. to the second floor of "Temple Court," and occupy the handsome suite of rooms fronting on Allegheny Street, so any one wishing to find our legal friend will know where to go and we promise good sound legal advice to any one desiring his services.

—The funeral of Edward B. Shrom who died in Philipsburg last Friday took place Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. It was an imposing demonstration, the remains being accompanied to the cemetery by the Logan and Undine Fire Companies, the order of Red Men and the Painters Union, headed by the Coleville Band.

—A young brainless idiot living on Spring Street told us Sunday morning of a prisoner being brought to town in charge of several men, believing him to be truthful we made an investigation only to discover he had simply lied to us. Now as for this lazy vagabond and worthless member of our community will say that we have not changed our opinion concerning him, for we never had any respect for the contemptible cur, ever since his widowed mother has had to support him.

—A poor wandering Gypsy was so unfortunate on Saturday as to receive a kick from a horse at the camp near Milesburg. He was brought to Bellefonte Hospital where upon examination it was discovered that his skull was fractured. Doctors Hayes and Sebring performed the operation of removing a portion of the bone. He is in a serious condition with little hopes of recovery, having had severe hemorrhages besides losing considerable brain matter. The man is about 40 years of age and has a wife who is devoted to him.

—Misses Helen Study, Amber Smith and Bertha Lightner, of Tyrone; Misses Mary and Marie Griest, of Unionville, with Mrs. Alice Mong, of Stormstown, as chaperon, and Messrs. C. A. Steele, C. S. Hiltner, F. D. Bradley, W. C. Barr and Dr. J. A. Witter, as escorts to keep away the bug-a-boos, spent ten days at the Juniata crossing Hotel, six miles from Everett, camping out. They spent Friday at Bedford Springs and returned home that evening, ending the season's outing of "Camp Ping-Pong" with supper at the Ward House upon their return.—Saturday's Tyrone Herald.

—Those of our citizens who wish to see "David Harum" as placed upon the stage can have the opportunity of doing so at the Academy of Music Tyrone to-night. We advise those of our readers who can possibly do so, to go and see it. "'David Harum' as a play has a most enviable record. It ran for sixteen weeks in New York City, seven weeks in Boston, six weeks in Chicago and six weeks in Philadelphia. Competent judges say that the humor and the touches of human nature in the play will cause it to live and be popular for many years to come."

SERVICES AT THE LUTHERAN CHURCH SUNDAY.

Rev. H. C. Hollaway, D. D., preached a most excellent sermon in the Lutheran church Sunday morning, to which we had the pleasure of listening. His text was from St. John's Gospel, 2nd chapter, the 13th to the 18th verses, and relates to Christ driving from the Temple those who sold oxen, sheep and doves, also the money changers, commanding those who were so engaged to "Make not my Father's house a house of merchandise."

He commenced his discourse by giving a picture of the condition of the Jews at that period, who were then waiting for the fulfillment of prophecy concerning the Messiah, expecting he would come in glory and splendor, and their astonishment at the presumption of a Galilean peasant assuming the perogatives of the Son of God. After describing the worship of the Temple and Christ cleansing it of everything worldly, he spoke of the Church of the present day, and told his hearers of several things that must be driven out and banished, before we can expect to accomplish the work God intends it to perform.

The first thing is covetousness in the Church, which is the canker that has infected the hearts and consciences of God's people, many using the Church for selfish ends and others withholding from its support that which is given us in trust to be used for His cause.

Then externalism is doing much to retard the growth of sincere Christian grace and worship. We look too much upon, and attach to great importance to outward forms and ceremonies, forgetting that God judges mens hearts only.

Intolerance is another great evil which is displeasing to our Heavenly Father. Dr. Holloway commended loyalty to the church, but deprecated bigotry. We should accord everyone in their religious views and worship, the same rights we enjoy, and, "let each esteem other better than themselves."

Spiritual conceit must also be eradicated. This he explained to be finding fault with God's plans and trying to improve upon them, for many are prone to forget God's ways are not man's ways, and who complain when His providences are not in accord with their individual ideas.

The whole sermon was replete with solemn thoughts suggested for the consideration of his hearers.

EXTENSIVE REPAIRS TO THE BUSH HOUSE.

Mr. W. L. Daggett, proprietor of the Bush House, has commenced extensive repairs and improvements to that well known and popular hostelry, which, when completed, will make it one of the most modern and desirable hotels in Central Pennsylvania.

Mr. Daggett has always kept pace with the times in introducing any improvements that would contribute to the comfort of his guests. His table and service are unquestionable of the finest and best, and his office force, consisting of Mr. Harry Fenlon and Mr. Frank Kirkland, by their genial and accommodating manner have made this house a Mecca for strangers desiring all the comforts that can be commanded.

The improvements which are made, embrace every department. In the first place Mr. Daggett is installing a large steam plant, with radiators in every room which will insure abundance of heat during the coldest weather. Another great convenience is placing private baths in four of the principal sleeping rooms on the second floor. The old furniture is being replaced with new. The walls are being repapered, and woodwork repainted. All through the house are evidences of changes being made, and Bellefonte can now boast of a strictly first class hotel.

A Sudden Death.

It is with extreme regret that we chronicle the sad death of Charles Pratt, of Unionville, which occurred Saturday afternoon in the Pennsylvania hospital at Philadelphia. Two days previous to this time Mr. Pratt was taken ill with a malignant form of typhoid fever. Everything possible was done for him, but all efforts proved unavailing and death ensued as above stated.

The remains were brought to the home of his parents at Unionville Monday morning and the funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Marks, the Presbyterian minister at that place will officiating. Interment in the Unionville cemetery.

Deceased was born in Unionville and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Pratt, of that place. He was aged 34 years, 11 months and 2 days. He was employed as a traveling salesman for a large Philadelphia firm.

He is survived by his parents and the following brothers and sisters: Frank and Mrs. Lizzie Black, of Harrisburg; David, of Hontzdale, and Seth, James and Gertie at home.

UNCLAIMED LETTER LIST.

The following letters remain in the Bellefonte Post Office uncalled for Aug. 25, 1902:

Miss L. M. Faust (2), Pearl Grazier, Wm. Gallagher, T. W. Gilroy, Harry Kemble, Geo. McWhiter (2). Wm. Peters, Byrd Stover, Mrs. Anna Warren, Harry Watkins.

When called for please say advertised.

W. W. MONTGOMERY, P. M.

The Star Course.

The canvasser, Miss Greaves, is meeting with good success in selling tickets for the Star Course to be given in Petrikin Hall this season. The tickets for the six entertainments at $1.25 are remarkably low, considering the talent engaged, the price of which alone is almost double that paid last winter.

The expenses of the Hall—heat, light and janitor—also make the sum total of expenses more than double the last season's Course. The opera chairs will all be held as reserved seats at the low price of 15 cents each evening, which we feel sure no one will refuse to give, as it is impossible to furnish the first-class Course we have without this small extra charge for a comfortable chair.

We hope all who expect to buy Course Tickets will do so now, paying for them as far as possible, as it of course entails extra expense to the Committee to send around again for collection. Buy for your family, buy for yourself and your "best girl," buy for those who would enjoy the treat of fine entertainments and concert but whose means are too limited perhaps for them to gratify the desire.

Bear in mind the object of the entertainments is to furnish to all clean, elevating, pure enjoyment for the coming winter nights, entertainments to which you can take your friends and young people without fear of apologizing for so doing.

W. W. Montgomery Has a Birthday.

A large number of the friends and relatives of our popular fellow-townsman and efficient postmaster, W. W. Montgomery, assembled at his hospitable home on Allegheny street Monday night to congratulate him on attaining his seventieth year.

It was in the nature of a surprise party and was certainly a surprise, but an agreeable one, to that gentleman, and the evening was one of pleasure to every person present. Many tokens of love and esteem were presented to him by those who were aware of this being such an eventful day in his earthly career.

Time has dealt leniently with Mr. Montgomery, and very few who know him would for a moment suppose he had passed seventy milestones in life's journey. But now, since everyone is acquainted with his age, he must not affect juvenile airs; he must take his place with the sober and sedate, and sit with those who are on the shady side—we young folks will enjoy, and take part in, the gaieties and frivolities of the world.

Mr. Montgomery since a young man has been a prominent figure in Bellefonte affairs, and no one stands higher in the estimation of our citizens as a good man, a kind friend and neighbor and a faithful, accommodating official.

Our wish is, that his declining years may be his brightest, and that he may live to a green old age surrounded by every earthly blessing and comfort.

Death of Mrs. Wilford P. Shriner's Father.

The sad intelligence reached Bellefonte Sunday that Mr. Emanuel Cox of Manchester, Maryland, father of Mrs. Shriner, had gone to his long rest on Saturday. Dr. Shriner, who was visiting at Emporium, received the news as he was on his way to preach at that place. He immediately started for Bellefonte with his daughter, Miss Emma, reaching home Sunday evening, and, with Mrs. Shriner, left at noon Monday for Manchester to attend the funeral, which took place Wednesday morning from her father's home.

Mr. Cox was about 76 years old and a few months ago was stricken with paralysis, which was the cause of his death. He was a consistant member of the Methodist church a prominent citizen of his native town, and for many years actively engaged in business. He was highly respected by a large circle of friends, who mourn his loss, and we join with them, in extending sympathy to those of his family who survive him. His aged wife is still living, also the following children: Mrs. Lewis Reiter, wife of Rev. Reiter of Punxsutawney, Mrs. W. P. Shriner of this place, Misses Eliza and Emma E., at home.

Our Court Reporter.

The REPUBLICAN has made special arrangements with W. Harrison Walker, Esq., to furnish this paper with a full and complete account of the doings in Court. Mr. Walker has reported court for us in the past and always given good satisfaction. This week several important cases come up for trial and Mr. Walker promises to outdo his previous efforts along this line.

W. Harrison Walker although a young man is one of the leading attorneys at the Centre County bar and the success with which he has met since coming to town is very gratifying to his many friends.

—The engagement of Dr. Mary Irvin Thompson to Dr. O. H. Shaffer has been announced. Dr. Thompson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Thompson of Lemont and has been practicing her profession at Altoona for several years. Dr. Shaffer is also a prominent physician of the Mountain City.

—Mrs. Mary A. Johnston entertained a party of her lady friends at dinner Monday evening. Those present being Mrs. James Rankin, Mrs. R. A. Kinsloe, Mrs. Belle Elliott and Mrs. J. A. Aikens.

A Former Bellefonte Boy Gets Good Position.

George Nevin Brandon, formerly of this place, but now of Carlisle, has been chosen professor of music in Centre College, Kentucky. The call comes to a young man, but a brilliant musician.

This morning's North American contains Mr. Brandon's picture and speaks of him as follows:

"For many years Mr. Brandon has been prominent in musical circles throughout Pennsylvania. He has conducted many amateur operatic performances and his public recitals always drew the elite of the city wherever he played.

At this time he is the conductor of music at St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, in this city. He resigns the position this week and will go very shortly to take up his new duties at Centre College."

Excursion to Williamsport.

On Monday, September 1st, the Central Railroad of Pa. will run a special excursion train to Williamsport and return, leaving Bellefonte at 7:00 a. m. and returning leave Williamsport at 7:30 p. m., on account of the Reunion of the Knights of the Golden Eagle. The rate will be a single fare for the round trip and tickets good to return on or before Saturday, September 6th.

The Central Railroad of Pa. will also sell one way rate tickets to Williamsport and return September 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th good to return on or before September 6th, on account of the Lycoming County Fair. 27-3t

Clarence Osmer Married.

The many friends of Clarence H. Osmer, of this place, were greatly surprised when the news reached here from Altoona, announcing that young gentleman's marriage, which took place last Saturday afternoon to Miss Edythe Daley, of Lock Haven. The ceremony was performed at the home of Rev. A. S. Bowman, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Hollidaysburg, Pa.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Osmer, of Bush Addition. The many friends of the happy couple tender them hearty congratulations.

Miss Frances Blackwell, of Jersey Shore, who has been a guest at the home of Mr. Hamilton Otto, for the past two weeks, departed on Sunday, for a weeks visit with Mrs. Al Garman at Tyrone.

Misses Anna and Louise Hoffer, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Hoffer, of Philipsburg, are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Gerberich, of North Thomas street. They are bright and pretty little ladies and we know that their stay in Bellefonte will be a pleasant one.

Dr. Geo. F. Harris and Mrs. Harris and Mr. John M. Shugert and wife returned on Saturday night from Cape May where they had gone for change of air and scenery. They report having had a pleasant time and their friends will be glad to learn that they were greatly benefitted by the trip.

Misses Berenice and Rachel Shuey and Margaret Brachbill are three young Bellefonte girls who have gone to Clearfield county for a stay of two weeks. They will first visit their uncle Andrew Stover at Curwensville and afterwards their uncle Wm. Mulhollan at Clearfield.

Benjamin M. Nead Esq., and wife are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs Wm. R. Jenkins on High street. Mr. Nead is a prominent Attorney of Harrisburg and a most companionable gentleman. We had the good fortune of making his acquaintance and we certainly enjoyed the honor.

Rash Irwin, one of the clerks at McCalmont & Co's store, left Sunday morning for Washington, D. C., where he will enjoy a short vacation. During his stay at the Nation's capital he will visit his friend, Wilbur Twitmire, who is a member of the Hospital corps in the General U. S. Hospital at Washington, D. C.

Quite a large party of people from Tyrone, Altoona, Johnstown and other points spent Sunday at the Nittany Rod and Gun Club at Hecla Park. They were Mr. and Mrs. James Mathers, Miss McIntosh, Cleveland, Ohio; Miss Margaret Cass, Mrs. Cass, Charles Cass, Robert Winn, John Gates, J. K. Anderson, Tyrone; Henry Fay, Altoona; Mr. Orbinger, Johnstown; Miss Ames, Chicago; R. Green, Birmingham.
